Address _____

IN LOUISVILLE

Louisville, Ky.,
April 22, 1927.

To the Stockholders of the National Bank of Kentucky:

The Board of Directors of the National Bank of Kentucky and the Board of Directors of the Louisville Trust Company have each unanimously resolved that it is to the interest of the stockholders of these two institutions to form a close alliance. The method adopted is set out in an agreement (a form in common use), a copy of which is inclosed, and which, we recommend you sign. It is everywhere recognized in the financial world that to bring together two such institutions is to very greatly benefit the stockholders of each.

The National Bank of Kentucky has at present net assets in all worth more than Six Million Eight Hundred Thousand ($6,800,000) Dollars.

The Louisville Trust Company has net assets in all worth more than One Million Seven Hundred Thousand ($1,700,000) Dollars.

It thus appears that the assets of the National Bank of Kentucky are in proportion to the assets of the Louisville Trust Company four to one, and this basis has been agreed on. It is proposed that the stockholders of each of these companies shall transfer to trustees their stock and that these trustees shall issue trustees' participation certificates of one share for each share of the stock of each of the companies. In other words, it is proposed to issue Five Million Dollars of participation certificates. In order to bring this about it is necessary that the National Bank of Kentucky, by the declaration of a stock dividend, shall increase its capital stock from Two Million Five Hundred Thousand ($2,500,000) Dollars to Four Million ($4,000,000) Dollars. The capital stock of the Louisville Trust Company is One Million ($1,000,000) Dollars. This will give to the combined trust a capital of Five Million ($5,000,000) Dollars and a surplus of Three Million Five Hundred Thousand ($3,500,000) Dollars. It is proposed to maintain the corporate identity of each of these institutions and as regular dividends are declared by the National Bank of Kentucky and the Louisville Trust Company that these dividends shall be paid to the trustees, who in turn shall divide them among the holders of the participation certificates as provided in the trust agreement. It is confidently believed that by the union of these two institutions the earnings of each will be increased, so that the dividends to the holders of the participation certificates will be greater than the stockholders of either of the institutions would receive if sharing in the earnings of one.

Exhibit 11 - C

In order to declare a stock dividend under the law notice must be given of a meeting for that purpose and there must be the assent of the holders of two-thirds of the capital stock of the National Bank of Kentucky. Such a meeting has been called to convene at the National Bank of Kentucky at 12 M. on the 27th day of May, 1927, which you are invited to attend or, not being able to attend, you are requested to sign the inclosed proxy. It will be observed from the instrument of trust that this cannot go into effect unless it receives the assent of fifty (50%) per cent of stock of each institution. It is important to the interests of both companies that this merger be brought about with expedition. We recommend therefore, that you send to the Louisville Trust Company, in the enclosed envelope, the agreement of trust signed by you and also the certificates of stock held by you in the National Bank of Kentucky, with the enclosed power of attorney, and the proxy above mentioned.

You will observe that this proxy is not only for the purpose of voting the stock dividend, but also for the election of twenty-one additional directors of the National Bank of Kentucky. It is a part of the plan for bringing together these institutions that the directors in both shall be the same. In order to elect the directors of the Louisville Trust Company into our board it is necessary that a resolution to that effect shall be passed by a stockholders meeting and at the same time the new directors be elected. A similar action will be taken by the Louisville Trust Company so as to include our directors in the board of that institution.

Very truly yours,

National Bank of Kentucky

James B. Brown

President.

Examiner should advise bank interest on demand or time loans should be collected at least every six months, and that mere payment of interest is not considered a renewal of the loan unless formal extension agreement is signed by all parties or the laws of the State provide otherwise. A new note, if practicable, at each maturity date is preferable.
*Include in "bad debts" only those bonds which have reached actual maturity, dates, and otherwise come within the definition of a statutory bad debt.

6,820.00 Buchanan Motors Corporation, due 9-28-26 Loan is endorsed by 5 individuals, but they are believed to add little strength. The company is in receivership, and the receiver estimates that the property should sell for about $35,000.00. The total bond issue is $25,000.00. The company's statement shows a badly extended condition with debts of $1,339,000.00, leaving a net worth of only $523,000.00. This statement, however, does not give effect to the company's liability on a collateral enterprise, known as the Brownsboro Land Company, with debts of $662,000.00 and a net worth of $13,000.00. When these two statements are combined, with duplications eliminated, the result is: Total Assets $2,338,000.00, Debts $1,701,000.00, Net Worth $637,000.00. Included in assets is an item of $335,000.00, described as "Investments in subsidiaries". The bank holds as collateral to this line $70,000.00 first mortgage bonds of Eugene Straus Cabinet Works, $10,000.00 first mortgage bonds of International Bolt Company, and $32,000.00 first mortgage bonds of the Brownsboro Land Company. This statement does not give effect to any liability for paper rediscounted. The rediscounts are largely renewals. Giles B. Van Cleave (cont'd.) exist between the companies and the individual endorsers. Eliminating these transactions, the three companies appear to have $266,000.00 in current assets and $178,000.00 in fixed assets to pay liabilities of $600,000.00. From this it will be seen that only a small portion of the debt will be collectible out of the assets of the companies. The bank has taken a second mortgage on 13 acres of ground in Cherokee Park, which has been appraised by local realtors as having a value of from $375,000.00 to $400,000.00. The exact amount of the prior lien could not be stated, but it is said not to exceed $15,000.00. In addition, the bank has an assignment of a lease on property in the main business part of town, which is said to have a present value of $150,000.00. The companies, which are engaged in the house furnishing business, are being allowed to continue operations under close supervision. If it is found that they cannot show any profits, they will be required to liquidate, and if anything like the assigned values are realized, on the additional security pledged, it should be ample to take care of any deficiency arising out of liquidation of the assets of the companies. This is one of the most unsatisfactory lines of credit in the bank and should have the closest attention with the purpose in view of getting it into more satisfactory shape at the earliest practicable date.

80,000.00 H. Verhoeff & Company One of the partners in this company recently died and when auditors were engaged to draw up the figures on the basis of which the partnership was to be dissolved, it was found that the company was insolvent. The audited statement shows total assets of $45,000.00 with liabilities of $62,000.00. Included in assets, however, are $19,000.00 in partners' overdrafts, which are considered negligible. This would create a deficiency of $35,000.00 between the assets and liabilities. The deceased partner made a statement to the bank showing ownership of a home valued at $20,000.00. After his death it was discovered that this property had always stood in his wife's name. The other two partners have no assets subject to their debts, their homes being held in joint tenancy with their wives. The deceased partner is beneficiary to the extent of about $14,000.00 in an estate being administered by the bank. The officers of the bank believe that the widow will turn over all of this to help liquidate this line. They are also endeavoring to get her to deed her home to the bank. Under the most favorable conditions the bank is likely to sustain a loss of 25 to 30% on the debt, and it is probable that an even larger loss will be realized.		60,000.00	30,000.00	20,000.00	10,000.00

This debt has been in the bank for several years. Its liquidation depends upon realising on the collateral pledged. The best prospect would seem to be from sale of Cadet Knitting Co. stock, inasmuch as this company has been constantly getting its affairs into better shape, and is reported to be entering a consolidation with several other companies, with the result that there may be an established market for the new stock. On account of the uncertainty as to the value of the collateral, the loan should be liquidated as rapidly as possible.			250,022.50

S. Zorn & Company As endorser on Gold Proof Milling Company. The direct line of S. Zorn & Company is partially secured by warehouse receipts covering corn and oats, with an estimated value of $160,000.00. As collateral to the Gold Proof Milling Company notes, the bank holds $140,000.00 first mortgage bonds on the property of the Gold Proof Milling Company, which is valued at $225,000.00, the total bond issue being $170,000.00. A few months ago, one of the partners in this business died and the bank loaned Harry A. Volz, the other partner, funds to pay out the interest of the deceased partner's estate. This cut the net worth of the company in two and largely increased its liabilities. Statement of S. Zorn & Company dated 4-1-27 shows: Current Assets $348,000.00, Current Liabilities $249,000.00, Fixed Assets $4,000.00, Net Worth $104,000.00. Planters Bank, Clarksdale, Miss. The amount now carried by the bank is only about one-fourth of a total claim against the Planters Bank, which amounts to $199,365.00 exclusive of accrued interest. The loans of the individuals are for the accommodation of the Consolidated Realty Company. This is evidenced by the fact that the securities pledged as collateral on the notes of the individuals are the property of the Consolidated Realty Corporation. (See Slow Loans for detailed account).
Management agreed to obtain reduction to legal limit at an early date.

	$975,000.00

This is an excessive loan set up against Wakefield and Company. The three individuals whose loans are included are employees of Wakefield and Company, a brokerage firm. The proceeds of the three loans were credited to the account of Wakefield and Company on the books of the bank, and the interest on the loans was paid by Wakefield and Company at each of the quarterly interest paying periods, that is, 9-30-26, 12-31-26 and 3-31-27. All of these facts tend to show that the loans are nothing more than accommodation loans for the firm of Wakefield and Company and thereby constitute an excessive line of credit to that firm. President Brown would not agree that this classification was correct, stating that the bank made such loans on the basis of the collateral and that it was felt that there was no obligation on the part of the bank to determine who got the benefit of the proceeds of the loans. In view of the difference of opinion on this matter, it is respectfully requested that your office furnish the bank with a ruling on this matter. In this connection, it may be stated that none of the three loans to the individuals are properly margined.

LARGE LINES (NOT TECHNICALLY EXCESSIVE LOANS)

List here all lines of credit which are believed to be subject to criticism, as representing unwarranted extensions of credit to the same or affiliated interests. Include loans, stocks, bonds, or other forms of credit, and explain briefly nature of affiliation. State whether line is disproportionate to bank's resources, or too large in view of financial standing of the borrowers, or why, otherwise, line is thought unwarranted. If any portion of these lines constitutes an excessive loan, such portion should be included also with excessive loans. If a portion only of a large line is included on page 4, include that portion here, but if the whole of a large line is shown on page 4, show only the aggregate here. Describe security, if any, and make any other comment deemed appropriate. Where aggregate line exceeds limit Sec. 5200 state reason for not classing as excessive loan.

Large loans not included in Slow or Doubtful schedules but which, because of apparently unsatisfactory statement, disproportionate amount of borrowed money, absence of statement, shortage of collateral, or other specified reason, it seems desirable to list for information. 		$1,022,930.59

The reorganized Kentucky Wagon Company recently bought in at foreclosure sale, the physical properties of the old company. The new company already had control of the inventory. In bidding in the properties, about $80 M. additional cash had to be advanced by the bank, which is represented by an increase in the company's overdraft. The new company is also liable to outside holders of the first mortgage bonds under which the foreclosure was instituted to the extent of about $125 M. The company is said to have current assets, consisting of accounts and inventory, amounting to about $750 M. It is claimed that the balance of the increase in the overdraft amounting to $60 M. is offset by a commensurate increase in the value of the current assets. The value of the plant, of course, is problematical. Its reproductive value would probably exceed the total value of the debt. Its sale value, except under favorable conditions, would probably be considerably less. As a going concern, the company up to the present has been unable to make any reduction in the obligations, but rather have they increased as evidenced by the gradual increase in the overdraft. It is hoped that some satisfactory adjustment may be made of this property within the near future in order that the bank may see just where it stands on the matter. Until such time as this can be brought about, however, it is believed to be the part of conservatism to write the debt down periodically in substantial amounts until the bank can feel sure that the amount carried may be realized even on the basis of an unfavorable settlement. It was agreed to charge off $100,000.00 at this examination.

OTHER LOANS ESPECIALLY MENTIONED.

Acme Printing Company — $ 5,500.00
This is a small concern with inadequate working capital. They have a substantial investment in real estate, which makes the loan safe, but it is carried continuously.

George R. Adams — 1,550.00
Secured by 20 shares, W. W. Hite Company.
The company makes a good statement. The stock appears to have a book value of slightly more than par. Loan has been continuous in the bank, however, since 1919 with small reductions from time to time.

Advance Battery Manufacturing Company — 10,000.00
Audited statement as of 12-31-26 shows: Current Assets $56,000.00, Current Liabilities $25,000.00, Fixed Assets $32,000.00, Mortgage $7,000.00, Net Worth $57,000.00.
Note is endorsed by J. L. Klapheke, who is said to be worth more than $100,000.00. Loan has been continuous in the bank for several years and shows no recent reduction.

Allgeier & Koch — 6,000.00
J. C. Koch — 2,250.00
Part is secured by endorsement of Perry Parnsley.
The bank also holds $5,570.00 worth of real estate notes and 50 shares of Allgeier & Koch Company stock, which would appear from the statement to have little value.

American Iron Works — 11,000.00
Statement dated 10-31-26 shows: Current Assets $9,800.00, Current Liabilities $7,500.00, Fixed Assets $18,100.00, Net Worth $20,400.00.
The company owns some valuable real estate, unencumbered, but is in need of more working capital. A trade checking shows them running fifteen to thirty days slow on some of their accounts payable.

Armstrong-Young Realty Company — 5,000.00
Endorsed H. L. Henderson and J. B. Armstrong.
No statement on file for company or endorsers.

Guy D. Atchisson — 5,000.00
Maker is a life insurance man, who has been in the bank's debt continuously since 9-7-26. He has no financial statement on file.

W.F. and E. B. Axton — 22,000.00
An unsecured loan carried for some time with no reduction. No statement on file.

B. & B. Laundry & Toilet Supply Company — 7,200.00
Endorsed by Murray J. Bailey.
Maker's assets consist almost entirely of real estate and machinery. A loan of this character should be handled as a real estate mortgage proposition.

Bankers Mortgage Company — 113,000.00
Collateral: $140,700.00 1st Mortgage Real Estate Bonds issued by the Bankers Mortgage Company.
These bonds are the obligations of various individuals whom the Bankers Mortgage Company finances, issuing the bonds of the individuals with the Mortgage Company's guarantee. The supply of these mortgage loans on hand is evidently considerably in excess of the public demand, otherwise they would be more readily absorbed and the Bankers Mortgage Company would not find it necessary to carry a large line of bills payable at all times to carry these bonds.
The statement of the Bankers Mortgage Company dated 12-31-26 shows: Total Assets $3,496,000.00, Liabilities $2,444,000.00, leaving a Net Worth of $1,052,000.00. Included in the assets is an item of $90,000.00 representing organization expense, which has not been amortized any since the organization of the company over three years ago.

OTHER LOANS ESPECIALLY MENTIONED.

Thomas A. Barker - Endorser on note of Goodsin Preserving Company	$ 3,673.20
Barker is said to be an attorney worth in excess of $50,000.00. The note which he rediscounts is pretty slow.
Bingham-Hewitt Grain Company	9,000.00
Endorsed by L. A. Hewitt.
Company's statement dated 12-31-26 shows: Current Assets $124,000.00, Current Liabilities $72,000.00, Other Assets $1,000.00, Net Worth $53,000.00.
This is an improvement over the previous statement and debt to bank has been reduced $19,000.00 since last examination.
Wolf Blitz Glass Company	21,500.00
The company's statement dated 1-1-27 shows: Current Assets $69,000.00, Current Liabilities $62,000.00, Fixed Assets $73,000.00, Net Worth $80,000.00.
During the year 1926, the company's debt expanded from $6,000.00 to $62,000.00. This was largely invested in real estate and other fixed assets, which were increased $47,000.00. Debt was reduced $5,000.00 during examination.
C. A. Block	6,090.99
Endorsed by C. J. Meriwether.
Mr. Block is an officer of the bank and gave this note in purchase of real estate. On account of Mr. Meriwether's involved condition, this is not considered a desirable investment for the bank.
A. Brandeis & Son	165,000.00
Partially secured by listed securities with a market value of $23,800.00.
Company is engaged in the wholesale grain business, but it is apparent that practically all of their borrowings are invested in stocks and bonds.
Their statement dated 12-31-26 shows: Current Assets $45,000.00, Current Liabilities $177,000.00; Other Assets $481,000.00, Net Worth $349,000.00.
The Other Assets consist of real estate $181,000.00, stocks and bonds $300,000.00.
It would seem proper to have this line fully secured by collateral with satisfactory margin.
Elliott Brashear	1,300.00
Secured by 20 shs. Perry County State Bank, Hazard, Kentucky.
Loan has been carried since 1919 and has been reduced from an original amount of about $3,000.00.
Bray Robinson Clothing Company	125,000.00
Secured to the extent of $20,000.00 by certificate of deposit.
The company's statement dated 1-1-27 shows: Current Assets $256,000.00, Current Liabilities $116,000.00, Fixed Assets $138,000.00, Reserves $77,000.00, Net Worth $201,000.00.
The current ratio is considerably improved over the previous statement, but the company continues to lose money.
H. G. Brooks & Company	105,000.00
Secured by certificate of deposit for $10,000.00, 810 shares Standard Oil of California, and 426 shares, Grocers' Baking Company.
The value of the collateral, including the certificate of deposit, is estimated at about $60,000.00.
The company's statement dated 1-1-27 shows: Current Assets $72,000.00, Other Assets $339,000.00, Mortgage $96,000.00, Net Worth $194,000.00.
The borrower appears to have himself in an extended condition and has made no improvement in this respect during the past year.
J. C. Brown	10,151.67
Secured by 110 shs. Kentucky Refrigerating Company, Com. and 110 shs. pfd.
This stock is not satisfactory collateral, but borrower is said to have other large interests.

This company owns all of the capital stock of several subsidiary companies, therefore, only a consolidated statement would be of any value for purposes of analysis. George A. Burkley — 2,200.00
Secured by 100 shares of Glidden Company,
Market value of collateral is $1,900.00, which is insufficient to cover loan.

Bush Brothers & Company — 39,000.00
Statement dated 6-30-26 shows: Current Assets $102,000.00, Current Liabilities, $67,000.00, Other Assets $25,000.00, Net Worth $60,000.00.
This statement reflects a poor current ratio and excessive debt compared to net worth.

John W. Clare & Company — 12,000.00
Endorsed by John W. Clare
No later figures available than those quoted in last report. The debt, however, has been increased $3,000.00. Satisfactory current credit data should be obtained.

C. M. Clark — 257,000.00
Collateral: 400 shs. Standard Oil of Kentucky,
456 " Merchants Ice & Cold Storage Company,
121 " Louisville Title Company.
The value of the collateral based on present market quotations is $112,000.00.

Since the loan is continuous in the bank, having been carried since 1922, it should properly be fully secured by collateral.

James T. Clark — 48,550.08
Collateral: 400 shs. Standard Oil of Kentucky,
20 " Majestic Theatre,

George M. Rady personally is said to have stocks and bonds worth 40,000.00 or $50,000.00 in the safe-keeping department of this bank. On account of the extended condition of the company, it would be well to have these securities up as collateral.

OTHER LOANS ESPECIALLY MENTIONED.

Hoffman Heater Company — $ 100,000.00
Company's audited statement as of 12-31-26 shows: Current Assets $520,000.00, Current Liabilities $245,000.00, Fixed Assets $519,000.00, Mortgage Debt $100,000.00, Net Worth $696,000.00.
Goodwill, deferred charges and other doubtful items, aggregating $240,000.00, are carried in the assets, so that net worth should be depreciated to that extent.
During 1926, the company lost $41,000.00 on the sale of a plant and $10,000.00 on operations. In spite of this, they paid a dividend of $7,000.00. For the past few months, the company has been under new management and it is believed that an improvement will soon be noted.

Home Circle Publishing Company — 21,000.00
Endorsed by John H. Sutcliffe.
The company's tangible assets amount to $27,000.00 - its liabilities aggregate $59,000.00 . In addition to the tangible assets, they carry $100,000.00 goodwill as an asset, which they claim is the conservative value of the circulation.
The company does not appear to have been making any money, since goodwill was written up from $50,000.00 to $100,000.00 between 11-1-25 and 4-1-26, while during the same period the surplus increased only $42,600.00. This would indicate an operating loss of $7,400.00.
The endorser, John H. Sutcliffe, makes a statement showing a net worth of $148,000.00, which consists entirely of stocks and bonds. It would seem proper to ask that he pledge part of these to secure his endorsement on this loan.

I. J. Hess — 1,512.00
Collateral: 12 shares, Armour & Company of Illinois, Pfd.
Market value of stock is only $756.00.

Hynes & Company — 10,000.00
Endorsed T. J. Campion.
Company is engaged in wholesale produce business, which was unsuccessful and is now in the process of liquidation. Endorsement will protect the bank against any loss.

Indian Hills Development Company — 70,000.00
do. Indirect — 13,919.92
The company's statement dated 6-19-26 shows: Total Assets of $587,000.00, Debts $319,000.00, Net Worth $268,000.00.
As the name indicates, the company is a real estate development proposition and is backed by some of the wealthiest people in Louisville. They do not appear as endorsers on the paper, however.

Irvine Construction Company — 12,000.00
Endorsed by James A. Wallace.
No statement of the company on file. Bank has very old statement of James A. Wallace, which shows a net worth of $772,000.00, made up largely of real estate and unlisted stocks and bonds. Loan has been reduced from $20,000.00 since 1925.

Lawrence Jones — 25,000.00
Maker is the principal owner of the Frankfort Distillery Company.
No statement of this company or Mr. Jones on file.

Fred Keller — 7,000.00
Secured by 17 shares of Louis Keller & Sons.
The bank has no statement of the maker or collateral.

Edward C. Keller Company — 2,100.00
The company owns a line of bill-poster boards. Their debt has been continuous in the bank since 1925.

OTHER LOANS ESPECIALLY MENTIONED.

Kentucky Consumers' Oil Company — $ 22,000.00
Endorsed by E. E. Hilpp & S. C. Hahnstab.
Statement dated 12-31-26 shows: Current Assets $39,000.00, Current Liabilities $49,000.00, Other Assets $45,000.00, Net Worth $35,000.00.
This statement reflects a current ratio of 1.82 to 2.89, the previous year, additional borrowings having been invested in fixed assets.
Company lost $220.00 in 1926 and made a profit of only $1,745.00 in 1925.

Kentucky Public Elevator Company — 77,000.00
Company's statement dated 6-30-26 shows: Total Assets $748,000.00, Debts $97,000.00, Net Worth $651,000.00.
The debt is all current, while current assets amount to only $19,000.00.
A loan of this character would appear to be more properly financed through a mortgage.

Kentucky Rock Asphalt Company — Direct — 50,000.00
do. — Rediscounts — 196,060.98
Company's statement as of 12-31-26 shows: Current Assets $726,000.00, Current Liabilities $172,000.00, Fixed Assets $5,652,000.00, Deferred Liabilities $1,700,000.00, Net Worth $4,515,000.00.
Of this net worth, over $3,000,000.00 is the result of writing up the values of the fixed assets. Net worth is subject to a depreciation of $406,000.00 on account of deferred charged in that amount carried in assets.
The rediscount land consists of large notes of road contractors, ranging in amount from $1,000.00 to $48,000.00. Practically all of these have been renewed at least once, and some of them a number of times.

Kentucky Tobacco Warehouse Company — 48,500.00
do. — Rediscounts — 38,770.00
The rediscount line consists largely of notes of the individual members of the firm, therefore, is really a direct obligation.
The company's statement as of 10-31-26 shows: Current Assets $230,006.00, Current Liabilities $106,000.00, Other Assets $12,000.00, Net Worth $124,000.00.
On account of the individual debts of the partners to the company and the joint accounts in which the partners are interested, it is difficult to properly analyse the statement. It is noted that the company suffered a loss of $26,000.00, and probably still has a considerable loss in its accounts receivable, aggregating $214,000.00. It is suggested that this line be adequately secured in some manner.

C. A. Kraner & Company — 50,425.61
Secured by note of the Herald-Post Company for $50,000.00, due 10-9-26.
The collateral note is endorsed by J. B. Brown.
It is apparent that the borrowing company is awaiting the payment of the debt of the Herald-Post Company to them before liquidating their obligation to the bank.

Shirley A. Kriner — 1,000.00
Secured by 10 shs. Niles Silk Shop, Lexington, Kentucky.
Stock is an unlisted one and there is no statement of the company on file.

Larimore Auto Company — 9,700.00
Endorsed by J. S. Larimore.
Larimore Auto Company — Rediscounts — 21,962.11
Statement dated 8-1-26 shows: Current Assets $40,000.00, Current Liabilities $19,400.00, Other Assets $700.00, Net Worth $21,100.00.
This statement does not show the company's contingent liability for notes rediscounted. Company suffered a heavy loss in a previous venture, but have lately taken the agency for the Oakland and Pontiac and are said already to be showing some improvement.

S. J. and G. V. Leachman — 2,827.43

OTHER LOANS ESPECIALLY MENTIONED.

Fred Levy Realty Company — $102,527.78
Endorsed by Fred Levy.
No statement of the company on file, but it is said to own a building worth $1,500,000.00, subject to an original mortgage of $1,200,000.00. The mortgage is believed to have been reduced somewhat.
This appears to be a very slender equity on which to base a loan. It is said, however, that the endorsement of Fred Levy adds considerable strength, he being estimated worth about $1,000.00.

Abraham M. Liebling — $5,000.00 PA
Secured by 500 shares, Imperial Realty Company and 750 shares, Liebling Realty Company.
These stock represent equities in an office building and a hotal building. The information at hand in regard to the values of the buildings and the amount of the mortgages is not adequate.

Lincoln Fields Jockey Club, Inc. — 200,000.00
This company owns the race track at Chicago, Illinois. There is no statement of the company on file.

Long & Evans — 23,500.00
Company's statement dated 12-31-26 shows: Current Assets $76,300.00, Current Liabilities $35,400.00, Net Worth $40,900.00.
Of the current assets, $52,000.00 is accounts receivable. This seems excessive for a firm of merchant tailors and would indicate that the company might be carrying some very slow accounts.

Louisville Clothing Company — 13,000.00
Endorsed by W. H. and Asa Harned and W. J. Jones.
Statement of the company as of 12-31-26 shows: Current Assets $98,000.00, Current Liabilities $84,000.00, Fixed Assets $58,000.00, Net Worth $72,000.00.
Surplus account has shown a steady decrease for three years, loss since 1924 amounting to $20,000.00. The one favorable feature is that $41,000.00 of the current liabilities is due to the endorsers on this note.

Louisville Hotel Company — 8,584.00
Secured by endorsements.
Reduced from $10,000.00 since 2-10-25.

Louisville Ice & Storage Company — 183,600.00
Endorsed by Lawrence W. Breed.
All of the ice companies of Louisville guarantee proportionate parts of this debt. They borrowed this money to purchase the business of the Louisville Ice & Storage Company and thus eliminate a competitor. The plant is now being operated.

Louisville Textile Company — 18,787.63
Statement dated 12-31-26 shows: Current Assets $40,000.00, Current Liabilities $34,000.00, Fixed Assets $137,000.00, Mortgage $22,000.00, Net Worth $122,000.00.
The company is operating at a profit, but is under-capitalized.

Luckett-Lake Tobacco Company — 210,000.00
Endorsed by W. O. Roehm and C. F. Luckett.
Statement dated 12-31-26 shows: Current Assets $608,000.00, Current Liabilities $318,000.00, Fixed Assets $166,000.00, Net Worth $456,000.00.
The largest item among the assets is the inventory, which amounts to $520,000.00. The company appears to have bought heavily for speculative purposes. $117,000.00 of the current liabilities is owing to officers two of them are endorsers on this paper.

Loan has been carried two years without change. Said to be amply protected by the endorsements.

C. L. Nelson — 1,750.00
Collateraled with stock of the Citizens Hotel Company, which is believed to have no value. It is claimed, however, that maker is good for the debt and he has been making nominal reductions.

Norman Lumber Company — 50,000.00
do. Rediscounts — 20,000.00
The company's statement dated 12-31-26 (not audited) shows: Current Assets $96,000.00, Current Liabilities $53,000.00, Other Assets $71,000.00, Net Worth $114,000.00.
The other assets consist chiefly of stock in subsidiary companies, the largest holding being in Norman Kiln Drying Company, whose loan is set out next below. The company's current ratio is poor, and while they state they made a profit of $10,000.00 for the year 1926, net worth actually shows a decrease of $3,000.00 over statement submitted 3-31-26. 60 % of the rediscounts consist of notes of the Norman Kiln Drying Company.

Standard Mortgage Company Secured by second mortgage real estate notes with a face value of $197,500.00. These are largely installment notes, a number of which are past due. It seems probable that the company has accepted payments on the notes which are not endorsed, and the value of the collateral may be less than the amount of loan. This is a continuous line in the bank.	162,000.00
Standard Printing Company Endorsed by Edward Settenhalk and D. B. Rose. J. W. M. Stewart Joint makers: John Buckingham, Alice Mayo Potter, Leon Isaacson, W.P.D. Haley, R.W.Bingham and James B. Brown. The joint makers on this loan are all individuals of large means, but the loan has been carried in the bank for several years without any reduction.	230,529.57
Stimpson Computing Scale Company Statement dated 12-31-26 shows: Current Assets $1,158,000.00 (of which $758,000.00 is receivables) Current Liabilities $521,000.00, Fixed Assets $170,000.00, Mortgage Debt $15,000.00, Reserves $14,000.00, Net Worth $778,000.00. When receivables of $758,000.00 are compared with the company's sales of $1,215,000.00, for the year 1926, the slow turnover will become apparent. The company does a large consignment business, and about one-third of their inventory of $356,000.00 has been out on consignment since 1925 or before. The character of their inventory and the installment feature of their receivables would make more working capital in the company highly desirable.	319,300.00
Herman Straus & Sons Company Last statement of the company available dated 1-31-26 shows: Current Assets $635,000.00, Current Liabilities $233,000.00, Fixed Assets $419,000.00, Mortgage Debt $61,000.00, Net Worth $751,000.00. This statement shows a substantial decrease in net worth over the previous year, and when the company's new statement is available particular attention should be paid to their progress during the year 1926.	75,000.00
O. P. Theisen M. J. Brennan is endorser on $2,500.00 and John M. Golden is on $1,500.00, which $2,500.00 is secured by unlisted bonds with no margin. Borrower is a man of small means and the loans are carried with only small reductions.	4,500.00
Thomasen Oil Company Endorsed by W. A. Thomson. Statement dated 12-1-26 shows: Current Assets $71,000.00, Current Liabilities $21,000.00, Fixed Assets $58,000.00, Deferred Credits $21,000.00, Net Worth $26,000.00. The net worth is subject to a reduction of $6,800.00 on account of goodwill carried in the company's statement. The bank relies largely on the endorsement, which is said to carry about $300,000.00 outside worth.	10,457.00
Tip Top Baking Company Endorsed by T. H. Murphy. Statement dated 12-31-26 shows: Current Assets $29,000.00, Current Liabilities $107,000.00, Fixed Assets $204,000.00, Net Worth $126,000.00. The company is said to make good profits, but evidently withdraws them all in dividends, since net worth shows an increase of only $4,000.00. This credit is based largely on the company's fixed assets.	58,000.00

25 " W.T.B. Williams & Sons, Bankers, Irvine, Kentucky.
The market value of the oil stock is $452.00, while the book value of the bank stock is$110.00 a share. Loan does not appear to be secured.

T. L. Young — 20,600.00
Secured by 353 shs. of Crummies Creek Coal Co. and $25,000.00 note of S. H. Stone, dated 7-10-25.

Form 1600—Reports—M. 10,000—7. C., Oct. 24-28.

No. of Bank 5312 Date of Report April 28, 1927.

ITEMS REQUIRING ATTENTION AND CORRECTIONS MADE OR PROMISED.

Statutory Bad Debts and Other Overdue Loans.	Larger part consists of old work-out lines which are receiving the constant attention of the management.
Slow and Doubtful Loans.	Continued careful attention to be given.
Losses.	Examiner's classification of losses concurred in and agreed to charge off by June 30, 1927. List left with Auditor.
Loans Otherwise Especially Mentioned.	Due consideration to be given to the examiner's reasons for listing.
Excessive Loans.	a. The excessive loan to the Kentucky Jockey Club was said to have been due to an oversight owing to the fact that part of the notes were made at the Main Bank and part at the Branch. Reduction could not be obtained during the examination, but was definitely promised within a reasonable time. b. The loan to C.C. Heistt, classed as part of the excessive loan to the Consolidated Realty Co., was originally made in good faith by the bank to Mr. Heistt personally. A few months ago, Mr. Heistt transferred the Louisville Trust Co. stock pledged on the loan to the Consolidated Realty Co., and the company assumed the loan without the knowledge of the bank. The matter came to the attention of your examiner from reviewing the auditors report of the company as of 12-31-26. It was agreed to eliminate the personal loan to Mr. Heistt as soon as it could reasonably be accomplished. c. The management of the bank disagrees with your examiner on the classification of the Wakefield & Company excessive loan, and therefore a ruling from your office on the matter is desired.
Overdrafts.	The larger items on the overdraft list as of the date of examination were: Hy. Wagon Mfg. Co. $ 299,092.84 Trumbo, Schupp & Schmidt 54,261.97 J. Dolfinger & Co. 9,449.45 Kneller & Burns 9,718.86 Herald Post Co. 74,917.82 Pres. J. B. Brown 28,995.44 The first four items are part of work-out lines and there is no prospect of eliminating them soon unless they are transferred to the claims account. The latter two items were covered during the examination. The Herald-Post overdraft had been continuous since Feb. 25, 1927, and has averaged about $55 M. The interest was not calculated and paid during the examination, but it was promised that this would be done.

ITEMS REQUIRING ATTENTION AND CORRECTIONS MADE OR PROMISED.

Irregular Cash Items: Items considered losses Debit ticker against Ky. Jockey Club. Stock purchased for customers and carried in cash items until such time as customers find it convenient to take up. One item at Main Bank and five items at Branch.	Charged off during the examination. Taken out during the examination. The irregularity of this practice has previously been called to the attention of the management and should be discontinued.
Credit Files.	The credit files have shown great improvement during the past two years, but are still incomplete as to correspondence, officers memos, trade checkings and other collateral information. The files on borrowing banks are very meagre and unsatisfactory.
Sold Loans.	The bank continues to sell to country correspondents many loans on which the collateral is not of a satisfactory type for this purpose or which are made on too close a margin. This matter should be more carefully watched by the officers.

LOANS HELD FOR ACCOUNT OF COUNTRY BANKS.

The custody department holds for account of country banks collateral securing loans aggregating $2,121,048.02, of which the following are said to have been made direct:

J. M. Greer	$ 206,000.00
A. E. Latta	131,500.00
Wakefield & Co.	228,600.00
J.J. B. Hilliard & Co.	85,500.00
James C. Willson & Co.	18,000.00

The balance, $1,453,448.02, were sold out of the note case. Included in this total are the following loans which for the reasons set out are not deemed desirable investments for country banks:

Eugene R. Atkisson — First National Bank, Charleston, Ind. $ 5,000.00
Coll: $650.00 Liberty Bonds,
25 shs. Henry Vogt Machine Co.
The stock is of a type difficult for a country bank to investigate or to get quotations on value.
Statement of Henry Vogt Machine Co. not on file.

F. G. Breslin - National Bank of Middlesboro, Ky. 14,284.67
Coll: $1,000. Illinois Central R.R. Co. 4% 1953,

Coll: $350 Liberty Bonds,
$1000 Bethlehem Steel 6's, due 1948,

Coll: 225 shs. Clifton Lumber & Coal Co. Par $10.
5⅞ " Parkland Lbr. Co. " $10.

F. P. Cawood & W.W. Lewis — Farmers National Bank, Scottsville, Ky. 5,000.00
Coll: 100 shs. Crummies Creek Coal Co.

L. W. Coakley — Peoples Exchange Bank, Scottyville, Ky. 2,500.00
Coll: 31 shs. Greensburg, (Ky.) Deposit Bank.
See comment on F. P. Cawood loan.

LOANS AND DISCOUNTS—Continued

The loans and discounts and other securities must be carefully verified and every discrepancy noted 2 cents long.

Total loans and discounts, $30,486,502.12

OVERDUE PAPER.

A. Total bad debts, as defined by Section 5204, U. S. R. S., $ 1,303,239.12

Of which there are carried in loans and discounts, $662,518.90

*Carried elsewhere, 640,722.22

B. Other overdue paper, $ 564,486.24

Total overdue paper (including all bad debts), $ 1,867,725.36

Examiner should advise bank interest on demand or time loans should be collected at least every six months; and that mere payment of interest is not considered a renewal of the loan unless formal extension agreement is signed by all parties or the laws of the State provide otherwise. A new note, if practicable, at each maturity date is preferable.
*Include in "bad debts" only those bonds which have reached actual maturity dates, and otherwise come within the definition of a statutory bad debt.

15,000.00 Badger Aluminum Company The value of the loan lies in the value of 218 acres in Johnson County, Oklahoma, which secures it. Recently, the bank had a local land appraiser visit the property. His report on file at the bank indicates that its value can only be estimated on an acreage basis. Your examiner has, since examination, been advised that the property is worth $6,000., although it probably could not be sold for that amount at this time. Bankers Mortgage Co.(Contd.) so many of them have not been absorbed by the investing public is not reassuring. Certain other real estate mortgage companies in Louisville find it difficult to obtain a sufficient volume of loans of this character to supply the demand. The fact that these loans have been held by the Bankers Mortgage Company so long indicates that they may not possess sufficient merit to attract the investing public. Your examiner is of the opinion that loan should be reduced and that value of collateral should be investigated.

B. C. Clark (contd.) Coll: (contd.) these loans are past due. $666.69 secured by lien notes on Louisville property. The basis of the loan seems to have been a Florida speculation. The parties to the note are in a controversy and bank is unable to get loan paid or fixed up satisfactorily. Bullett is regarded as good, and the portion of the loan to which he is a party is classed as merely slow. Clark is a real estate operator with limited financial responsibility. The Florida loans, composing practically all of the collateral, are of such uncertain value that the portion of the loan not secured by Bullett is classed as doubtful. Early steps should be taken to collect this loan.

15,227.50 Columbia Phosphate Mining Company This loan is part of a $45,000.00 loan, secured by a third mortgage on 60 acres of land near Columbia, Tennessee, with prior liens aggregating $40,000.00. In the last report of examination, it was stated that Armour & Company was desirous of leasing the land at a royalty of 45 cents per ton. Nothing definite has been accomplished since that time. Your examiner was advised that the Columbia Phosphate Mining Company has signed an agreement to lease the phosphate rights to Armour & Company on a basis of 75 cents per ton. The agreement is in the hands of Armour & Company, but no advice has been received during the examination that Armour & Company has signed. If completed, this deal will work out the loan without loss. The loan is a long drawn out proposition, and unless the property can be leased to some concern large enough to operate it, it is doubtful if the third mortgage bondholders will realize much, if anything, from their loan.			15,227.50

In checking the matter up, it was discovered that the bank held $13,825.00 of notes, which were paid in full, but had not been withdrawn. During 1926, the maker company paid a 100% stock dividend. This is said to be the result of an arbitrary enhancement of its real estate holdings in the sum of $2,164,000.00. Kentucky Wagon Company (contd.) said that about $10,000.00 more will have to be advanced before all claims are finally settled and the plant, unencumbered, becomes the property of the bank. During this examination, your examiner, together with examiner Hunt, made a superficial inspection of the properties of the company. There is 1 brick office building and 13 brick manufacturing buildings of various sizes and heights located on 32 acres of ground in Louisville. Your examiner formed the opinion that the primary value of the land lies in its value for terminal purposes by reason of its location contiguous to the tracts of the Louisville & Nashville Railroad Company and the Southern Railroad Company. The secondary value of the property is for manufacturing purposes. The trouble lies in the fact that the property requires such a large manufacturing unit to absorb its facilities that few purchasers are available. The company has a considerable inventory. The old inventory was not well balanced and as orders are received new inventory has to be purchased to supply the parts that were not included in the old inventory. The company is operating as a going concern and is employing about 475 men aside from the office force. The normal force of the company when operating at full capacity is from 600 to 750 employees. The trouble lies in the fact that the operations are unprofitable, even when using part of the old inventory. It has been of great value to the company to keep it operating as a going concern, but unfortunately this has not been done at a profit. Your examiner believes that the management of the bank is using its best efforts to dispose of the property, but unless it can be sold for terminal purposes, it is feared that further losses will be sustained. Your examiner has estimated $100,000.00 as loss and $200,000.00 as doubtful. Any assignment of value must be an arbitrary one, as it must be considered for carrying purposes on the basis of what can be obtained for it, not by its replacement

No recent statement of the company is on file. Its affairs have been in a precarious condition for some time. In the report of the last examination of this bank part of the loan was classed as doubtful. The management was changed, and Mr. MacNeal, the present manager, is regarded as a high-class, food products man. Your examiner was advised that the new manager has already accomplished much in effecting economies in the management of the company. Mr. MacNeal had a long connection with an outstanding concern in this line. He resigned his position to put his assets back of the maker company, which is evidence of his belief that it can be worked out successfully. On December 31, 1927, a statement will be made, which should reveal to what extent the company has improved.

Trumbo, Schupp & Schmidt (contd.) it would seem that the property could really be sold at this time for at least $150,000.00. At this price, the bank would have an equity of about $140,000.00 as further support to the line. $50,327.77 E. E. Woods Secured by a second mortgage on 2,500 acres of land in Allen County, Kentucky. The value of the land is uncertain. Maker is said to own a large amount of live stock. When this loan was taken it was thought to be a first lien, and an officer's certificate was attached to the loan showing in good faith that the loan was a permanent lien. It has since developed that there was a first lien on the property, which now amounts to $41,700.00. In view of the circumstances, your examiner feels that there is an element of doubt with respect to the collectibility in full of this loan and has classed $40,000.00 as doubtful. Since examination, your examiner has been advised that on 11-8-27, maker deeded equity to Hugh B. Pleasa.			$50,327.77	40,000.00

Statements of the companies are poor and do not, in the opinion of your examiner, warrant the large lines of credit advanced. LARGE LINES (NOT TECHNICALLY EXCESSIVE LOANS)

List here all lines of credit which are believed to be subject to criticism, as representing unwarranted extensions of credit to the same or affiliated interests. Include loans, stocks, bonds, or other forms of credit, and explain briefly nature of affiliation. State whether line is disproportionate to bank's resources, or too large in view of financial standing of the borrowers, or why, otherwise, line is thought unwarranted. If any portion of these lines constitutes an excessive loan, such portion should be included also with excessive loans. If a portion only of a large line is included on page 4, include that portion here, but if the whole of a large line is shown on page 4, show only the aggregate here. Describe security, if any, and make any other comment deemed appropriate. Where aggregate line exceeds limit Sec. 5200 state reason for not classing as excessive loan.

CAMPBELL LINE.

The items constituting this line are either loans of W. D. Campbell, Campbell Heath & Co., their concerns or the items were brought into the bank on account of the past contact of Campbell with this bank or the constituent banks comprising this bank prior to the consolidation.

W. D. Campbell
Coll: 4,000 shs. Van Camp Packing Company, Pfd. $ 40,000.00
The market on the collateral at the time of the examination was 18, which abundantly collaterals this loan.

$50,000.00 note, Wm. D. Campbell, given 7-16-26, due 11-17-26. No interest paid. This loan is secured as follows:
Coll: 750 shs. Liberty-Washington-Cedar Street Corp.,
564 shs. Cader Knitting Mills, Pfd.,
$11,000.00 certificate of deposit on the National Bank of Kentucky.

Aside from the $11,000.00 certificate of deposit, the collateral is of such uncertain value that your examiner is unable to arrive at any valuation on it. It is said that the Cadet Knitting Mills Company was about to enter into a consolidation, through which a price would have been paid for the stock of the company that would have enabled Campbell to have paid this loan to the bank and have liquidated other obligations or removed other assets for which he is directly or indirectly responsible. The deal for consolidation, however, was not consummated. Efforts are still being made to effect the consolidation.

Campbell Heath & Company
Coll: $100,000.00 Murray Rubber Company, 1st 7's, 100,000.00
250 shs. " " " Pfd.
Certificate of deposit on National Bank of Kentucky for $1,021.67.
The securities of the Murray Rubber Company pledged as collateral, except the C/D on this bank, are regarded by your examiner as entirely undesirable, particularly in view of the large amount of Obligations of the Murray Rubber Company to this bank and loans to the bank collateraled by securities of the company.

$106,500.00 Liberty-Washington-Cedar Street Corp. 2nd Mortgage Bonds 106,500.00
Guaranteed by White & Associates.
As stated in the discussion of this asset under Bonds & Securities, the bonds are being met at maturity, and it is believed that bank will sustain no loss. Junior lien assets, however, are regarded as very undesirable assets for a National bank to hold. The building is being managed by Mr. Heath.

Cadet Knitting Company 100,000.00

After deducting Goodwill and Deferred Charges from the Net Worth, the real net worth is shown as $1,356,648.00.
This company is the only one of the Campbell enterprises concerning which your examiner has any evidence that would warrant the item in being classed as a commercial credit. The current ratio of 2.85 to 1 would indicate a commercial basis for credit. It is noted, however, that a large part of the current assets consist of merchandise. If this item represents sound values, the loan to the bank would appear to be warranted. Statements of the company show that its net profits and 1925 were $158,236.00, Profits in 1926, however, declined considerably and show only $15,503.00. No explanation for the decrease is noted.
Your examiner was advised that the company promised to liquidate its indebtedness to the bank at the last maturity of the loan, but at the maturity request was made for another renewal. The bank advised maker that at the next maturity it expected the loan to be liquidated.

Statement of the company is poor, even assuming that the assets listed represent sound values. The company has been experiencing considerable difficulty recently. It lost its contract with Sears-Roebuck & Company, which constituted about 54% of its output. Company is still operating as a going concern, but until its next audited statement it will not be known whether operations for the fiscal year will be at a profit or at a loss. Thus far, it is said that the company is just about breaking even, losing money part of the time and making a profit part of the time. This, of course, does not render it possible for the company to pay its outstanding indebtedness. The general experience of small rubber companies at this time is not good, and apparently there is nothing in the future that indicates that conditions will grow more favorable, indeed, it would appear that they are likely to grow more unfavorable. Your examiner cannot escape the conviction that the unsecured debts of the company and loans secured by stock of the company represent some hazard to the holders of them.
The question may be asked why this line is listed with the line of Campbell or of Campbell Heath & Company. In reply your examiner will state that he was advised during this examination that the loan originally came into one of the constituent banks, prior to consolidation, as commercial paper, and was sold to said bank by Campbell Heath & Company.
Wm. D. Campbell is a director in the Murray Rubber Company.

Coll: 42 cars cotton seed oil, which are said to be adequate to cover the secured loan. The secured loans are said to be paid promptly.
Your examiner has nothing on which to base an opinion with respect to the value of the unsecured loan. W. D. Campbell, who controls the Van Camp Packing Company, has never furnished a statement of the company, indeed, he has persistently refused to furnish stockholders of the company any financial statement of the company, although some of them have resorted to legal proceedings to obtain a statement. It is represented that the company is good and could pay the unsecured obligation on demand. As has been said before, your examiner has no means whereby he can classify the loan in any way. Based on the past experience of this bank and its constituent members with Campbell and Campbell Heath & Company, it seems that definite knowledge is extremely important.

Sundry stocks and bonds carried in Bond Account at $125,000.00
Of these stocks, the following were acquired directly or indirectly through Campbell or Campbell Heath & Company:
500 shs. Industrial Ownership Corp.,
500 " Murray Rubber Company, Pfd.
Your examiner has been able to ascertain sound value of about $80,000.00 for stocks held in this account other than the Campbell stocks, hence has charged the Campbell Line with only $125,000.00.
In valuing these stocks under Bonds & Securities, your examiner has classed $125,000.00 as doubtful.

Albert Latta $6,000.00
Coll: 8,500 shs. Van Camp Packing Company, Pfd.
The collateral is a Campbell Company. The market value of the stock appears to be adequate to protect the loan.
It is claimed that maker is good aside from collateral.

Industrial Ownership Corporation 149,950.00
Collateral: 5,597 shs. Van Camp Packing Company, Com.,
35,000 " Calco Chemical Company, Com.
(See discussion of this loan under Bonds, Securities, Etc.)
$75,000.00 of the claim is classed as doubtful. The Van Camp Packing Company is a Campbell enterprise.
The Calco Chemical Company is a dye works located in an eastern State. It was built by the United States Government during the War at a large price and was sold after the War at a very low price. The trouble has been that the company has not been able to operate profitably. Unless the company can be put on a profitable basis, the stock can be considered as possessing only negligible value.

1/8 of the loan of J. M. Greer, secured by Van Camp Packing Company stock. 60,000.00
(See Excessive Loan of Wakefield & Company).
½ of the loan of Mrs. L. I. Harris, secured by the stock of Van Camp Packing Company. 150,000.00
(For description of loan see Excessive Loan of Wakefield & Company).

Total $1,992,856.24

It may be of interest to note the compensating deposit balances carried by the above parties, concerns, etc. comprising the Campbell Line. It will be noted that the balances are very inadequate and renders it all the more surprising that such a concentration of credit, arising directly or indirectly from one source, should have become lodged in the bank.

None of the balances are adequate, not even those of the Van Camp interests.

The insufficient balances are not, however, the most objectionable features to this large concentration of credit. It is always disturbing to find such a large proportion of the assets of a bank revolving around a common center. It might be said that all of the line is not Campbell's, but a close investigation discloses the fact that directly and indirectly, this large volume of credit touches Mr. Campbell or Campbell Heath and Company. (Your examiner thinks perhaps other items might be included in this line such as the Columbia Phosphate Mining Company which owes this bank $30,227.50).

An analysis of the different items composing this concentration of credit shows that some of them must at this time be regarded as questionable value. If one or two more of them (for instance the Murray Rubber Company or Van Camp Packing Company) should develop the same degree of doubtful solvency that some of the other items have developed, the bank would have a line that might indeed be regarded as a menace.

Your examiner regards it as extremely important to dispose of such items composing this line as are regarded as undesirable. The Cadet Knitting Co. appears to be all right if its inventory is sound. An audited statement would disclose whether or not the Van Camp Packing is all right. The other items composing the line appear to be undesirable.

President Brown advised your examiner that he has within the past few months been offered $2,800,000.00 for the plant, not including the building. The newspaper is gaining in prestige and no doubt its value will continue to increase each year. It can, however, hardly be considered the type of loan to be carried indefinitely by a National bank. 	The total indebtedness of this company is about $190,000.00, of which $64,186.70 is held by this bank and has been charged down to the present carrying figure. The only asset left consists of lien notes of $45,000.00, held by the Chemical National Bank of New York. The maker bought the properties of the Graphite Products Corporation for $55,000.00, paying $10,000.00 cash and executing notes for $45,000.00, secured by a lien on the property. These notes have matured and have been extended from time to time, as the maker has not been able to organize a company to operate the companies as was intended when he purchased it. The production of graphite on these properties has heretofore been a complete failure. Your examiner regards this claim as doubtful.

	This represents the purchase of 38 feet on Main Street, opposite the National Bank of Kentucky. It was originally purchased by the bank with the intention of building a future banking home. It was desired to purchase some adjoining property, and the property was put in the name of A. R. Latta in order that the public might not be advised that the bank was purchasing the real estate. It was feared that an undue enhancement in real estate prices of adjoining property would follow any public knowledge of the purchase by the bank. Apparently, the management of the bank has abandoned the idea of building on this location. The property has been held since 7-11-24.

No. of Bank 5312 Date of Report Oct. 14, 1927.

CRITICISMS.

The National Bank of Kentucky acts as Administrator and Trustee for the Estates of Geo. G. Fetter, Sr. Among the assets of the Estate was a margin account with the now defunct brokerage firm of Geo. S. Wood & Son. The National Bank of Kentucky purchased the securities of this margin account and the securities are now pledged on a loan for the estate. The securities consist of:

		Estimated Value.
900 shs.	Lou. Gas & Elec. Co. com.	$25,200.00
700 "	Mo. Pac. pfd.	77,700.00
300 "	Stand. Oil of Calif.	15,900.00
300 "	" " " Indiana	21,300.00
800 "	" " " Kentucky	94,400.00
	Total	$234,500.00

The securities are in the name of the brokerage firm of Wakefield & Co. However, they are not set up on the books of the Trust Department for the account of the Estate. This is done to avoid paying inheritance tax, according to the trust officer.

The matter was called to the attention of management and it was agreed that the assets will be correctly shown on books of trust department.

No. of Bank 5312 Date of Report Oct. 14, 1927.

CRITICISMS.

1. Overdue loans, described on Page 4 and on supplemental pages.	Many of these are loans long overdue. Some of them do not appear to be receiving sufficiently vigorous attention. Your examiner believes it would be profitable to bank if these delinquent items and charged off items could be placed in charge of some individual who could have the time to give them vigorous attention.
2. Slow and doubtful loans, described on Page 4 and on supplemental pages.	Continued diligent efforts should be given to collect these substandard assets or to get them in better condition.
3. Losses, described on Pages, 4,5, and 8 and on pages supplemental thereto.	Charged off during this examination.
4. Excessive loans, described on Page 5 and on supplemental pages.	Both of these loans were excessive at the time of the last examination. Apparently management was cognizant that loans were excessive.
5. Large lines, described on Page 6, and on supplemental pages.	Your examiner calls especial attention to the Campbell Line, described on pages supplemental to Page 6. This large concentration of credit was made by Mr. Campbell or by Campbell Heath & Company or by or through their enterprises directly or indirectly. Some are endorsed by them and some are secured by stocks of their concerns. It is stated that they are not now connected with some of the concerns. The fact remains, however, that the items are all in the bank because of some contact with Mr. Campbell or with Campbell Heath & Company. Your examiner cannot escape the conviction that this line as described, is a source of potential danger to the bank.
6. Illegal real estate loan.	When this loan was taken, it was believed to be a first lien on 2500 acres of Kentucky land. Officers certificate on Form #1416, certifying in good faith that the loan was secured by a first mortgage. It has developed that the loan is secured by a second mortgage on the property. The loan as originally made was secured, through the maker's collateral note, by real estate. A case was pending in the Court of Appeals which might affect the title but it was thought that an adverse decision was impossible. The case, however, was decided adversely, and the bank holds a second lien real estate loan, which was not taken D.P.C. There is attached to report a copy of a letter received from Cashier covering the view-point of the bank relating to the matter.
7. Overdrafts.	The bank has published statements for several years that have consistently shown overdrafts of several hundred thousand dollars. Your examiner fears that the effect has not been beneficial. It was stated that the overdraft of the Kentucky Wagon Co. will soon be put into satisfactory form. This will eliminate most of the overdrafts. It is earnestly recommended that a "drive" be made on overdrafts to the end that a minimum amount of them may be shown in the next published statement of the bank.

8. Credit Department.

Marked improvement is noted in this department. It is believed that there has been a corresponding improvement in the character of the credits that are extended by the management. It is believed that further valuable improvement can be made in the credit files and the following recommendations are respectfully submitted:

(a) Officers should dictate memos. for the files following interviews or conferences with borrowers, or whenever information relating to borrower is obtained from any source.

(b) Employees in credit department should closely scan daily papers and clip for files any items relating to borrowers of bank.

(c) All letters received by bank containing any facts relating to borrowers should be filed in borrowers' files instead of in the general files. This is of vital importance.

(d) When borrowers are using more than one bank, credit inquiry should be directed to other bank or banks.

(e) Other credit sources such as commercial agencies should be used whenever advisable. The chief value of these reports is to obtain antecedent information relating to borrowers. The bank obtains these reports to some extent now.

9. No mention made in minutes of correspondence with Comptroller of Currency.

Hyman Pickle Co. (Cont'd) This includes a piece of real estate not used in the business, from which it is believed $30,000.00 may be realized. The figures submitted for the period 7-1-27 to 12-31-27, show a net loss of $31,800.00. Your examiner endeavored to ascertain what part of this represented operating loss and what part was due to the depreciation of inventory. The manager of the company was interviewed and he stated that he could account for $8,000.00 of the loss as depreciation on inventory, but he felt sure that this did not represent the full amount and that it was impossible to ascertain the exact amount of the depreciation mark-down during this period. He stated that the company had broken even during the first two months of this year. The company is liable on a lease, having eight years to run at an annual rental of $6,000.00 a year, on its local plant and machinery. It would appear that a sizeable loss may be sustained on this loan.

Kentucky Wagon Mfg. Co. (Cont'd) Since the last examination the sum of $114,380.78 has been advanced to take up claims and for operating purposes. Of this amount, at least $55,000.00 was advanced for claims, and it is thought there are other items of advances which could not be located. However, the operations of the company are still carried on at some loss and no progress is shown toward developing this property into a profitable manufacturing concern. The most likely way in which the bank can work out of their difficult position on this loan is to dispose of the properties. Since it now has full title it is in a position to make such negotiations and the management has been giving constant attention to doing this. At this time they have a live prospect for a reorganization with a western manufacturing concern, which if consummated, will very materially improve the status of this loan. Negotiations have been carried forward to such an extent that the management is hopeful that the deal may be consumated in a very short time. However, until this has actually been put into effect it is thought that this prospect should be disregarded as to the classification of the loan and should be considered on its present status, in which case it was decided to make another reduction in the carrying value of this item, and $100,000.00 was charged against Profit and Loss.

Chandler & Lucas Co. (Cont'd) is bad shape for some time and a change of management was made. One of the endorsers, Mr. MacNeal, who had had much experience in this line of business, was placed in charge and he put his personal assets behind the proposition, which gives concrete evidence of his faith in making a prosperous business of this concern. Just what progress he has accomplished during the past year cannot be definitely known until the audited figures are submitted.

Your examiner was advised that the collateral can be disposed of for $15,500.00. The concern is being liquidated and a report was obtained which shows that the liquidating manager has on hand: cash $21,800.00, accounts and notes receivable $22,600.00, and a judgment for $10,000.00, in connection with which an attachment has been levied on $10,000.00 worth of Liberty Bonds. The total claims are given at $174,827.00, of which $2,500.00 are preferred. After realizing on the collateral the bank would have to receive approximately a 60% liquidating dividend to pay their claim in full. Owing to the fact that $22,000.00 of the assets are notes and accounts and the claims are long past due, part of this debt is classed as doubtful.	28,575.87		22,000.00	5,575.87

Swiss Dyers & Cleaners Co. (Cont'd) This loan has been reduced only $304.06 since the preceding examination. There is no statement of the company on file, but the value is thought to rest principally on the endorsement of D. H. Long. Taking the line as a whole, the loans depend principally upon the 4th Avenue Amusement Company stock. The affairs of this company have been wonderfully improved during the past year, so that the value of the stock at this time would probably cover the entire line. This improvement, however, is due to a factor of such a nature that it is possible that it could as quickly lose its increased worth of the past year. In view of this fact and the continuity of these loans, it would seem advisable to obtain reductions.

25,000.00 Louisville Mortgage & Finance Company To secure this debt and $10,000.00 other loan, which has been sold to correspondent banks, this bank held sundry real estate mortgage notes aggregating $41,002.35, of which $8,982.75 represents balances due on notes which have matured. Also the bank was holding notes aggregating $6,695.45, which had been paid in full by the makers to the Louisville Mortgage & Finance Company. The loan does not seem to be properly collateraled.			25,000.00
33,250.00 Louisville Provision Company Endorsed Charles C. and Henry Knight. The affairs of this company were placed under the direction of an executive committee in an attempt to work it out of its difficulties. Recent figures submitted show current assets $385,000.00, current liabilities $359,000.00, part of the debt ($46,000.00) being secured by pledge of inventory. The fixed assets are carried at $669,000.00 and are mortgaged for $217,000.00. It is reported that the company is doing a business of $5,000,000.00 a year and profits for December and January were $8,000.00. The endorsers have some assets, but it still appears uncertain that the proposition can be worked out to a successful conclusion.			20,000.00	13,250.00

An intensive campaign is being made to raise the necessary funds to purchase and donate this property to the government. 180,000.00 Murray Rubber Company (For discussion of this loan see Campbell Line under Large Lines on Page 6). The result of last year's operations of this company were so disappointing that it would seem likely that the unsecured debt of the company would shortly become subject to some discount unless an earning power is developed. It will be noted that the current ratio is inverted and that the debt is sharply in excess of the net worth. This company entered into a contract with a southern company for certain operations on a tract of timber, which was owned by the southern company. The contract provides that the subject company shall cut and deliver to the southern company all the timber on this tract of a specified variety, not less than twenty million feet, at a specified price of $22.00 per thousand feet. After performance of this contract the subject company is to have title to the remaining timber on this tract, as well as title to the land itself. The timber has recently been cruised by experts, who reported that there is more than enough of this specified variety of timber to fulfill the contract for the twenty million feet. As a guaranty, subject company placed $100,000.00 in escrow, and it was stated that during the coming summer the subject company would begin to draw down portions of th' $100,000.00 as the contract is nearing completion. E. B. Norman & Co. (Cont'd) on hand 6,000,000 feet of cut lumber and that the average selling price of this product last year was $47.00 per thousand feet. On this basis the value of the cut lumber would be $300,000.00. In the absence of information to the contrary, it would seem that the amount of lumber on hand would represent at least one year's cut for this company and that it is not moving to the market as rapidly as would be desirable. The statement of the company also shows a gain to net worth for the year of practically $62,000.00. At this time the loan is classed as slow and is regarded as an undesirable credit for this bank. It may be said, however, that this large loan is in connection with working out a debt previously contracted by the company.

Giles B. Van Cleave (Cont'd), claims aggregating $70,000.00. The management is giving this line intensive attention to liquidate the companies. Your examiner was informed that on the basis of present negotiations it is reasonable to expect that the accounts receivable of Trumbo, Schupp & Schmidt will be sold in total for $175,000.00, the inventory of Trumbo, Schupp & Schmidt for $45,000.00, and an offer of $75,000.00 has been made for a valuable leasehold which the company assigned to the bank. These items aggregate $295,000.00, and there are a few other small items to be liquidated. From the above, it would appear that the bank will have about $175,000.00 to be realized from the 15 acres of subdivision property. This property is valuable and is located in the highest grade residential section of the city. A local real estate firm has appraised the property at from $200,000.00 to $225,000.00, if sold as a whole, and from $200,000.00 to $210,000.00 as a subdivision. It was stated by an officer of the bank that this property would probably be listed with a local real estate firm for subdividing during the Spring. Nothing more definite than the above can be given in regard to this large loan at this time.

The bank is handling the estate of one of the endorsers in the trust department, and from this source will receive $17,494.85. This will leave about $22,506.00 to be realized from the assets of the company. In a statement dated 1-31-30 the assets are listed at $36,997.25, of which amount $26,666.45 is composed of accounts receivable. Owing to the lack of progress made in realizing on the assets of the company during the past year, it would seem that there is some doubt of this amount being realized therefrom and $10,000.00 is classed as doubtful.	40,000.00	30,000	30,000.00	10,000.00

$0,827.77 E. H. Woods (This loan described on Page 4-29 of report of examination began 10-14-27). This loan is secured by a mortgage on 2,500 acres of land in Allen County, Kentucky, subject to prior lien of $41,700.00. It is reported that this land is very good farming land and has sufficient value to protect both mortgage debts. The difficulty is in finding a purchaser during this period of depressed farming conditions.			$0,827.77	$0,000.00
8,000.00 Amos Yeager Statement of 1-1-28 lists current assets $41,700.00, current liabilities $29,700.00, net worth $17,700.00. A net profit is shown of $6,654.87, but net worth shows a loss of $3,600.00. Statement is poor, and apparently money is being drawn out which should be left in the business.			8,000.00
100,000.00 S. Zorn & Company			100,000.00
135,000.00 Gold Proof Milling Company Endorsed S. Zorn & Company. S. Zorn & Company also have a loan for $140,000.00, secured by grain. The Gold Proof Milling Company loan is collateraled by $140,000.00 1st mortgage bonds on the plant of the company. The plant is valued at $215,000.00 and the bond issue is $170,000.00. Statement of S. Zorn & Company dated 3-1-28 shows current assets $345,000.00, current liabilities $245,000.00, with a net worth of $112,000.00. The amount of credit advanced to these companies is believed to be entirely too large in proportion to their assets. It was stated that the company would obtain a new loan on its fixed assets and that the loans in this bank would be cleaned up, with the exception of the amount loaned on grain. It would appear to be highly desirable that such an arrangement be effected. -EXTRA SHEET PAGE 4-30-			135,000.00

OTHER LOANS ESPECIALLY MENTIONED.

Guy D. Atkisson — $10,000.00
No statement on file. The records show that maker owns a piece of real estate assessed at $8,800.00 and mortgaged for $10,000.00. He carries a checking account with the bank, which has lately averaged $6,000.00.

Bankers Trust Company — 136,900.00
Collateral: Bonds having market value of $19,800.00; $21,005.99 of first mortgage real estate notes and $134,600.00 of maker's first mortgage bonds.
Of the first mortgage bonds, $800.00 were issued in 1925, $4,100.00 issued in 1926, $15,600.00 issued in 1927, $72,200.00 issued from 1-1-27 to 8-29-27 and $21,000.00 issued from 10-4-27 to 2-17-28. This indicates that the company does not have a ready market for its bonds. It was stated to your examiner that these bonds are issued on a conservative basis and that they have good merit, but that the company is confronted with the problem of creating a ready market for its issues.

Calvin F. Boles. C. E. Choens, surety. — 19,837.71
Money was used to purchase a home and has not been reduced since 1-27-27. Surety is said to be good but has no statement on file with the bank.

A. Brandeis & Sons — 235,000.00
Endorsed Alfred Brandeis.
The loan has collateral with an estimated market value of $120,275.00. The statement of the company dated 12-31-27 shows a net worth of $300,200.00, and the assets are composed principally of stocks and bonds carried in the statement at $332,000.00, and real estate carried in the statement at $181,000.00.
Statement indicates that advances to the firm should be made on a collateral basis.

Geo. M. Clark — 233,000.00
Collateral: 800 shs. Standard Oil of Kentucky,
151 shs. Louisville Title Company,
626 shs. Merchants Ice & Cold Storage Company.
The market value of the collateral is estimated at $171,267.00, which does not furnish sufficient collateral for the loan.

James T. Clark — 47,000.00
Collateral: 400 shs. Standard Oil of Kentucky,
20 shs. Majestic Theatre Company, Com.
The market value of the collateral does not furnish the proper margin for the loan.

Duffy Ice Company — 12,000.00
Endorsed Thomas J. Duffy.
Statement dated 10-1-27 shows current assets $6,500.00, current liabilities $30,900.00, fixed assets $70,600.00, investments $18,300.00, mortgage debt $15,000.00, net worth $49,700.00.
This statement does not compare favorably with the one rendered for the preceding year. Net profits of $16,500.00 are shown, and a loss to net worth of $6,900.00.

Falls City Plumbing & Supply Company — 15,000.00
Endorsed L. P. Hyman.
No new statement has been filed since the preceding examination, at which time loan was described on Page 4-15. The loan has been substantially reduced and bank is asking payment of the balance.

CAMPBELL LINE.

The reasons for including these various items under one line have been fully set forth on Pages 6-1 and 6-2 of the report of examination which was begun 10-14-27.

Cadet Knitting Company 100,000.00
Guaranteed by Campbell Heath & Company.
Report of examination begun 10-14-27, Page 6-1, sets forth various items composing the 1-1-27 statement. No later statement was found in the credit department of the bank. Requests for payment of this loan have been made by the bank for the past few months, but it has not been able so far to obtain payment. During this examination the paper was extended to mature $25,000.00 in April, $30,000.00 in May, and $45,000.00 in June, and the officers of the Cadet Knitting Company made positive promise that the paper would be paid as it matures.
As was stated in the report of the last examination, the latest statement on file indicates a basis for commercial credit. The fact that the company has not obtained credit elsewhere to lift the debt in this bank is not reassuring. If the statement above referred to represents sound values, it would seem likely that the company could have obtained this money elsewhere.

and also because of the financial condition of the Murray Rubber Company, which is more fully discussed under the loan of Murray Rubber Company hereinafter described in this Large Line.

Wm. D. Campbell — 40,000.00
Collateral: 4,000 shs. Van Camp Packing Company, Pfd.
The market on this stock at the present time is given as 5 bid and 10 ask, which would not give sufficient value to the collateral to cover the loan. It is believed that under the present condition of the Van Camp Packing Company that its stock does not furnish satisfactory security for a bank loan, as there is no market for it; in fact, your examiner knows of no trades in this stock having been made for some time. It seems to be held in the hands of a few individuals and trade in this stock would be subject to the usual bickerings incident to a private trade. Under such circumstances it can not be regarded as satisfactory collateral for a bank loan.

Albert Latta — 20,000.00
Collateral: 2,000 shs. Van Camp Packing Company, Pfd.

J. M. Greer — 15,000.00
This is part of the $300,000.00 loan listed in the excessive loan to Wakefield & Company.
The collateral on this loan aside from the Van Camp Packing Company stock would furnish a 20% margin on a loan of $225,000.00. The remainder of the loan is included in this large line as being collateraled by Van Camp stock.

Mrs. L. I. Harris — 150,000.00
This is one-half of the $300,000.00 loan listed in the excessive loan to Wakefield & Company, and the portion of the loan included here is arrived at on the same basis as the Greer loan listed first above. On this loan a value of $200.00 a share is given the Wells-Kilhorn Coal Company stock, although it has no ready market.

Van Camp Packing Company. Unsecured. — 200,000.00
do Secured by crude cottonseed oil. — 89,919.80
This company is controled by W. D. Campbell. He has persistently refused to furnish a statement of the company, and therefore your examiner has no means of classifying the loan. It is represented that the company is good and could pay the unsecured obligation on demand. Such a situation, however, is not satisfactory, as complete and detailed information should be had by the bank on all loans of this size. The loan is a steady one and is never reduced or paid out.

Murray Rubber Company — 150,000.00
Endorsed Rev. Murray, Jr.
During this examination an additional $125,000.00 was loaned to the Murray Rubber Company, secured by assigned accounts.

$500,000.00 Murray Rubber Company, 1st Mortgage, 7's, due '44. Carried in Bond Account at — 326,499.00
A statement of this company dated 2-29-28 lists current assets $978,000.00; current liabilities $644,000.00; fixed assets $1,896,000.00; mortgage bonds outstanding $750,000.00; net worth $1,548,000.00, represented by $500,000.00 preferred stock and $1,000,000.00 common stock, which is impaired to the extent of $125,000.00.
The statement indicates a loss to net worth of $220,000.00 for the eleven months beginning 4-1-27. It is also noted that on 12-31-26 the surplus account of this company stood at $322,000.00 and the capital structure is now the same as at that date. Unless this company can be made to earn a profit, and that done quickly, it is feared that not only the stock of the company will be worthless but the bonds and current debt of the company will represent some hazard to the holders. In view of the poor showing made last year, the outlook is extremely discouraging.

It was reported to your examiner that the parties interested in this company will put $250,000.00 new money into it, and that they are optimistic and have entire confidence that they will place this company on a paying basis, and that very shortly. Your examiner cannot believe that such an outstanding improvement will be accomplished.
Mr. D. Campbell is a director in the Murray Rubber Company.

$100,000.00 Liberty-Washington-Cedar Street Corporation, 2nd Mortgage Bonds. 100,000.00
Guaranteed by White & Associates.
This item is carried in the Bonds & Securities Account and are part of a total issue of $250,000.00 2nd mortgage bonds, subject to a prior lien of $110,000.00. The amount originally held by this bank was $125,000.00. The bonds are due serially and all maturities of principal and interest have been met. This lends confidence to the belief that the bonds will eventually be paid. This bank has received payment for $6,500.00 since the preceding examination.
No value is attached to the guarantee of White & Associates.

Industrial Ownership Corporation 149,950.00
Collateral: 6,597 shs. Van Camp Packing Company, Com., and 38,000 shs. Calco Chemical Company.
This item is carried in the Bonds & Securities Account.
The Van Camp Packing Company is a Campbell enterprise. The Calco Chemical Company is a dye works located in an eastern State. It was built by the United States Government during the War at a large price and was sold after the War at a very low price. The company has not been able to operate profitably, and unless it can be put upon a paying basis the stock can be considered as possessing only negligible value. The common stock has a book value of a little more than $7.00 a share, after deducting from net worth $829,000.00, which represents goodwill, deferred charges, and development and research items carried in the assets. The statement of 12-31-27 reports profits of $289,000.00 before charges of $95,000.00 for depreciation and research reserves, leaving a net to surplus of $196,000.00.

Sundry stocks and bonds carried in the Bond Account at $175,000.00. 100,000.00
Of these stocks, the following were acquired directly or indirectly through Campbell or Campbell Heath & Company:
500 shs. Industrial Ownership Corporation,
500 shs. Murray Rubber Company, Pfd.
Your examiner was able to ascertain a value of about $75,000.00 for stocks held in this account other than the Campbell stocks, hence has charged the Campbell Line with only $100,000.00. In valuing these stocks under Bonds & Securities your examiner has classed $75,000.00 as doubtful and $25,000.00 as loss.

holds $100,000.00 of second mortgage bonds of the Liberty-Washington-Cedar Street Corporation and from the fact that this issue is being retired serially it is assumed that the equity in this property is being increased and that the value supporting the note and stock of this corporation is increasing. However, no further data in regard to this corporation was available to your examiner. It is apparent that a very large portion of this loan is dependent upon the stock of the Cadet Knitting Company. Just what this is worth your examiner is unable to say. The statement of the company was listed on Pages 6-1 and 6-2 of report of examination begun 10-14-37, since which date no newer statement was available. This statement shows a book value of $11.80 a share for the common stock, but this amount is not thought to be of any benefit in arriving at the realizable value of the stock. (See comments on the Cadet Knitting Co. above). At the last examination it was reported that the Cadet Knitting Company was about to enter a consolidation through which a price would have been paid for the stock that would have enabled Campbell to have liquidated this debt. However, this arrangement was not consummated and it is reported that the present plan of liquidating this loan is to place the stock in small amounts with individuals. It is hoped that some favorable action will be had on this loan.

The above listed line of credit includes loans amounting to $450,000.00 made on an unsecured basis to corporations. The statements of the makers and/or other circumstances in connection with the loans indicate that the loans do not constitute proper investments of the funds of a bank. Another portion of the line amounting to $436,400.00 is composed of mortgage bonds, which are considered to be undesirable assets for a national bank for the reason that there appears to be no ready market for the bonds; one issue is a junior lien, and while maturities are being met when they become due, the margin of security is not thought to provide the proper protection, although complete data in regard to the issue is lacking. The other issue is subject to the criticism of the matter of security, as the financial condition of the company and other auxiliary data indicates that the supporting security may not only be undesirable but may prove to be inadequate. The remaining portion of the line amounts to $854,650.00 and is composed of loans, collateraled in, most part by certain stocks, and direct ownership of other stocks. The major criticism is the matter of security. The discussion of the various items above shows the difficulty in arriving at values and the question of whether the values are sufficient to protect the loans held by the bank has not been sufficiently determined for the satisfaction of your examiner. The stocks apparently do not have readily realizable value, as there is no ready market for them at prices which would pay out the above debts. Another factor is that the stocks are reported as being held in large blocks in the hands of a few individuals, who control the affairs of the companies. Under such circumstances the matter of selling the stocks would involve the matter of selling control of the companies, and negotiations for such a procedure would be subject to the bickerings incident to a private trade, and the interest of this bank is quite substantially involved in such bickerings. Such a situation cannot be considered as a banking proposition. To say the least, it is a very undesirable condition for a national bank to have interest in such a matter, and with the additional criticism of the matter of adequate security, it behooves the management of this bank to give the above line its most careful and active attention.

The statement does not indicate a commercial credit. However, the company is making some progress, the gain to net worth for 1927 being shown as $27,000.00.

Loan has not been paid out since 3-4-1924 and is a capital loan.

The accounts receivable are $86,700.00 and seem to be somewhat large for sales of $194,000.00. Net profits for the year shown as $1,700.00 and $6,000.00 was withdrawn from the business for dividends, representing 12% on the capital stock.

125,000.00

Hirsch Bros. & Company
The company manufactures catsup, pickles, etc. Audited statement of 12-31-27 lists current assets $672,000.00, current debt $210,000.00.
The company lost $101,000.00 in 1926 and $29,281.76 in 1927.

Hoffman Heater Company
The audited consolidated statement of the Hoffman Heater Company of Louisville and the Hoffman Heater Company of California dated 12-31-27 lists current assets $457,000.00, current liabilities $198,000.00, fixed assets $272,000.00, mortgage debt $69,000.00, net worth, after deducting goodwill and deferred charges $496,900.00.
Last year's operations resulted in a loss of $47,601.87. Company also lost money in 1926. While the current ratio is good, unless the company can be placed upon an earning basis the problem of disposing of an inventory may be presented. $5,000.00 was paid on the loan during the examination.

70,000.00

Indian Hills Development Company
This is a high-grade subdivision proposition. The company furnishes a memorandum under date of January 31, 1928, listing real estate at $872,000.00, showing bank debt $142,000.00.
This is a capital loan. Management stated that responsible individual endorsements would be obtained.

6,000.00

This statement shows an improvement over the one for the preceding year, but the current ratio is still inverted. The net profits are reported as $26M, but a comparison of the two statements seems to indicate that substantial reserves were set aside during the year and that the progress made during the year is really better than as shown by the statement.

The total indebtedness of this company is about $199,000.00, of which $65,155.70 is held by this bank and has been charged down to the present carrying value. The only asset left consists of lien notes of $45,000.00 held by the Chemical National Bank of New York. The maker bought the properties of the Graphite Products Corporation for $88,000.00, paying $10,000.00 cash and executing notes for $45,000.00, secured by a lien on the property. These notes have matured and have been extended from time to time, as the maker has not been able to organize a company to operate the properties as was intended when he purchased it. The production of graphite on these properties has heretofore been a complete failure. The claim is classed as doubtful.

This represents a purchase of 58 feet on Main Street, opposite National Bank of Kentucky. It was originally purchased by the bank with the intention of building a future banking home. It was desired to purchase some adjoining property and the property was put in the name of A. E. Latta in order that the public might not be advised that the bank was purchasing real estate. It was feared that an undue enhancement in real estate prices of adjoining property would follow any public knowledge of the purchase of the bank. The property has been held since 7-11-24.

CRITICISMS.

1. Slow & Doubtful Loans. — A large part of the overdue paper is classified in this schedule and efforts to collect and improve the condition of these assets should not be relaxed.

2. Excessive Loans. — Two in number. One was reduced to within the legal limit during this examination and prompt reduction of the other was promised.

3. Large Lines. — Your examiner is of the opinion that the assets of this bank which require the most serious attention of the management are included in large lines as listed on Page 6 and supplemental pages. They total quite large sums and are thought to be potential sources of large losses. The most careful and active attention should be given, as well as to other substandard assets listed in this report.

4. Illegal Real Estate Loan. — Please refer to previous reports for circumstances in regard to this loan.

5. Credit Department. — This department is showing progressive improvement. However, it is believed that further improvement can be made, especially in respect to the following recommendations:

(a) Officers should dictate memoranda for the credit files following interviews or conferences with borrowers, or whenever information relating to a borrower is obtained from any source.
(b) All letters received by the bank which contain any information of credit value in regard to any borrowers should be placed in the proper individual credit file and not in the general correspondence file of the bank.

CRITICISM.

The National Bank of Kentucky acts as Administrator and Trustee for the Estates of Geo. C. Fetter, Jr. Among the assets of the Estate was a margin account with the now defunct brokerage firm of Geo. H. Wood & Son. The National Bank of Kentucky purchased the securities of this margin account and the securities are now pledged on a loan for the estate. The securities consist of:

		Estimated Value
900 shs.	Lou. Gas & Elec. Co. com.	$87,000.00
700 "	Mo. Pac. Pfd.	77,700.00
300 "	Stand. Oil of Calif.	16,500.00
300 "	" " " Indiana	22,200.00
800 "	" " " Kentucky	100,000.00
		$303,400.00

The securities are in the name of the brokerage firm of Wakefield & Co. However, they are not set up on the books of the Trust Department for the account of the Estate. This is done to avoid paying inheritance tax, according to the trust officer.

The matter was called to the attention of management at the last examination, and it was agreed that the assets will be correctly shown on books of trust department. However, this has not been done.

Form 1498.—Page 3
TREASURY DEPARTMENT
COMPTROLLER OF THE CURRENCY—EXAMINING

Exhibit 16

No. of Bank, [illegible]

LOANS AND DISCOUNTS IN GENERAL

1. To what general lines of industry or classes of borrowers are loans chiefly made?

Banks, bankers, brokers, merchants, manufacturers, real estate operators, lumber concerns, mining interests, tobacco interests, finance concerns, etc.

2. Is distribution satisfactory both as to classes of borrowers and amounts of loans?

Yes, aside from lines described on Page 6 and on supplemental pages.

3. State as to the general character of collaterals, and advise if a collateral register is maintained.

Listed and unlisted securities, warehouse receipts for commodities, insurance policies, and bills receivable. Collateral register maintained.

4. List direct and indirect loans to corporations or enterprises in which any director or officer is largely interested, giving name of interested director or officer. If any borrow unduly, also list on pages 5, 6, or 7 according to their classification.

SEE EXTRA SHEET

5. Any liability of directors or officers as makers or indorsers which is subject to criticism? Describe fully, and give reason.

SEE EXTRA SHEET

6. State whether all paper claimed by the bank as its property, including collateral appears to be properly indorsed or assigned to it, and all mortgages properly recorded and all collateral accounted for.

Yes

7. Give highest, lowest and average rate of interest obtained.

6% 4½% 5.06

8. Does the bank place paper with other banks, and to what extent? (This refers to paper not shown properly upon the books as a rediscount liability.)

Bank has sold a number of loans to country correspondent banks. The list attached describes certain loans that do not in all respects, measure up to the standard of loans that should be bought by country bankers as secondary reserves

9. Does this bank appear to be liable in any way, as indorser or guarantor by letter or separate agreement, or through indorsement of directors or officers, for benefit of bank? If a contingent liability caused by signing of a blanket guaranty or agreement for bank's benefit exists, describe fully.

The loans are assigned without recourse, but as a practical proposition they are bills payable. These loans are sold from the note case of the bank, hence it might be difficult for bank to escape liability for any loss sustained, even if it desired to escape liability..

10. Do they take loans to accommodate other banks, and to what extent?

Some loans taken for accommodation of country correspondent banks.

11. Does sending bank appear to be in any way liable? (See No. 10.)
List liabilities of National Banks.

SEE EXTRA SHEET

12. Is adequate credit data available either in form of financial statements or otherwise? (Note.—Examiner should require that adequate data be available and steps be taken to maintain such files and data.)

Credit files show improvement. Not enough supplemental data is filed.

The loans and discounts and other securities must be carefully verified and every discrepancy noted

Total loans and discounts, $ 35,112,421.60

OVERDUE PAPER

A. Total bad debts, as defined by Section 5204, U. S. R. S., $ 1,200,857.75

Total overdue paper (including all bad debts), $ 1,768,112.58

Examiner should advise bank interest on demand or time loans should be collected at least every six months; and that mere payment of interest is not considered a renewal of the loan unless formal extension agreement is signed by all parties or the laws of the State provide otherwise. A new note, if practicable, at each maturity date is preferable.
*Include in "bad debts" only those bonds which have reached actual maturity dates, and otherwise come within the definition of a statutory bad debt.

SLOW AND DOUBTFUL PAPER AND LOSSES ON LOANS

List here all paper, including overdue paper, called for by this schedule. State briefly in each case the reason for the classification, and such further comment as may be deemed appropriate. A "Large Line," all parts of which are included here, should be listed in the aggregate only under "Large Lines" on page 6. Give maturity dates of "bad debts."

The Louisville Trust Company holds as trustee for the protection of bank creditors a lease on property located on the west side of Fifth Street, between Liberty Street and Walnut Street, subject to a prior lien of $80,000.00 - also a lien on property located immediately west of above property, subject to a prior lien of $6,000.00. 15,000.00 Columbia Phosphate Mining Company During this examination advice was received from the company that the contract with Armour & Company reads that buyer shall mine and pay for 25,000 prepared and dry tons during its first year's operation, dating twelve months from the date shipments begin. On the first 20,000 tons shipped, there shall be no payment, as this will cover the $15,000.00 royalty advanced on the contract by Armour & Company. The price is 75¢ per long ton. Armour & Company is reported to have advised that their minimum requirement is 60,000 tons per year. Up to the present time no mining has been done by Armour & Company and it is stated that it will probably be in the early months of 1929 before operations will begin. The Columbia Phosphate Mining Company is said to have no expenses beyond interest and taxes. It is stated that it will be the policy of the company when the royalties begin to come in to use the funds in liquidation of the company's obligations. On the basis of this information it would seem that this loan and the asset carried in Claims and Judgments are good, but it will probably be slow in working out.			15,000.00

$35,000.00 - Loan Consolidated Realty Company			$35,000.00

Coll: 200 shs. General Realty Corp., Com., (in name of C. C. Hiett), 370 shs. Louisville Realty Corporation, 220 shs. Consolidated Realty Corporation, Com., Sundry bills receivable aggregating $215,217.91. (Of this amount, $448,396.96 is secured by vacant property.)
Your examiner submits the opinion that this type of security is extremely undesirable for a commercial bank. The large amount of credit advanced accentuates its undesirability. Taking into account the direct and indirect liability of the company to the bank, it is believed that a larger amount of collateral should be pledged. It is further believed that the amount of collateral secured by unimproved property should be decreased and the amount secured by desirable improved property should be increased.
The statement of the company dated 12-31-27 shows:
Direct Liability of the Company $5,507,957.00
Indirect Liability 1,946,908.00
Total Liability $7,454,865.00
Net Worth(Claimed) 5,628,625.00.
Statement shows an operating loss of $12,965.00
Dividends Paid 102,515.00
Total $115,396.00
Added to Surplus by Re-valuation of Assets 76,680.00
Total Loss $38,816.00.
It can be readily seen that no dividends should have been paid. Even after arbitrarily adding $76,680.00 to value, the dividend resulted in a loss of $38,816.00. In its present condition your examiner feels that this advance of credit is entirely too large and that it is inadequately secured with collateral, a part of which, at least, is subject to just criticism.

36,000.00 Dawson Daylight Coal Company Collateral: $50,000.00 bonds of company. The condition of the company has improved intrinsically. The difficulty appears to arise from the fact that non-union coal companies have suffered as a result of the adjustment of wage scales in the Union fields. Coal production now exceeds demand, hence all coal companies are suffering in some degree. Management of bank deserves credit for having effected a re-organization of the maker company. If this had not been done, it is probable that bankruptcy would have resulted and that bank would have suffered a loss. Reduced $1,000.00 since last examination.			36,000.00

This contract is a serious problem to the maker company and would probably add to the loss sustained if company should go into liquidation. The National Bank of Kentucky on March 7, 1927, guaranteed the Louisville National Bank against loss to the extent of $4,000.00 on account of a loan of company held by said Louisville National Bank. This might also add to the amount of loss to be sustained by the National Bank of Kentucky. The statement tells a sad story. The company has continued to operate at a loss. This is almost necessarily true, as a large plant of this type requires a large volume of output and profitable sales to absorb the necessary overhead incident to its operation. The plant has consistently lost money on its operations during the past few years and will continue to do so until its output can be enlarged and its sales expanded. It has been rather interesting to observe the constant high level of debt, in spite of the semi-annual charge-offs of $100,000.00 each. Kentucky Wagon Mfg. Co. (contd.) the debt was $1,015,421.06. $100,000.00 was charged to Profit and Loss at that time. The total of the line at this examination is $1,062,542.31. A substantial portion of this is loss, but a part of it is probably due to new inventory essential to the operation of the plant. However, in the opinion of your examinef the operation of the plant, even at a loss, has probably been a wise thing. If the plant had not been maintained as a going concern, it is hardly likely that the present encouraging prospect for a profitable sale of the plant could have been found. At the time of the last examination there was an excellent prospect to close a deal for the sale of the plant. All details were agreed upon, and the deal is said to have fallen down through dissension that arose concerning a division of commission among the agents who negotiated the deal. Another deal was, however, in prospect and was immediately pushed vigorously. At this time, all the evidence available tends to show that deal will be shortly consummated, whereby four million dollars of stock will be underwritten to yield the company 90, or a total of $3,600,000.00. If the deal is consummated, the bank will receive the face of its debt in full, plus interest. This will result in a recovery of something over a half million dollars. Data available seems to show that the underwriters, a French financial concern, with 26 French banks, have the money ready to pay over as soon as the French Government approves a license for the sale of the preferred stock. It is said that the stock has been actually issued and is ready to deliver as soon as approval has been secured. During this examination, a representative of the company went to Washington for an interview with the French Charge' d'Affaires, to furnish certain information requested by the French Government. The firm in France particularly interested in this deal is said to represent the General Motors Company in continental Europe. 75% of the Kentucky Wagon Mfg. Co. (contd.) distribution of this French company is said to be in Russia. It is further said that these sales are negotiated through representatives of the Russian Government. It is represented that the principal output of the Kentucky Wagon Company, especially its trailers, can be distributed in large volume; in fact, it is represented that the maximum capacity output of the plant can be used. All of this seems too good to be true, but evidence available indicates a strong possibility that the deal may be consummated. If the deal is consummated, the problem of the Kentucky Wagon Company will have been solved. In view of this possibility, your examiner has not requested the management of the bank to make a charge to Profit and Loss during this examination. If the deal should fail of consummation, we are confronted with the fact that the bank has a plant whose indebtedness is constantly increasing through loss, and is further confronted with the fact that the present rate of depreciation should be continued for some time. The management of the bank agreed that if the deal has not been consummated by January 10, it will charge to Profit and Loss $100,000.00, which charge-off is temporarily waived at this time, in view of the favorable prospect for immediate sale of the plant.

Statements show that during 1927, the company sustained an operating loss of $814,365.00. Also that during the first half of 1928, an operating loss was sustained of $227,019.00. An analysis of the surplus of the company shows that cash was paid in and bills payable surrendered and cancelled in the sum of $181,333.00. The surplus was also credited with the proceeds of the final settlement with Sears - Roebuck & Company in the sum of $65,699.00, making a total addition to the surplus of the company through outside sources of $319,108.00. In spite of this fact there was a net loss of $222,968.00. Murray Rubber Company (contd.) to more than one year old. The statement presents about as gloomy a picture as can be imagined. One more year with operating results even approximating results for the first half of 1928 would render it impossible for the bank creditors of the company to continue to carry the unsecured obligations of the company at book value. Indeed, it is a very serious question now whether the loan and bonds of the company should be carried at par. President Brown advised your examiner that the dominant shareholders of the company have indicated a willingness to put additional capital into the business. He expressed the intention of arranging an early conference with said shareholders and asking them to put at least $300,000.00 new capital into the company. Unless this is done, bank should collect its loan.

The current ratio of the company is inverted and the debt is almost twice the net worth of the company. This company purchased a tract of timber from a Texas company, the tract consisting of about 15,000 acres. In payment for the tract, Norman & Company agreed to deliver to the Texas company twenty million feet of Tupelo lumber at $12.00 per thousand feet. Norman & Company were required to deposit with the Texas company $100,000.00 as a guarantee of the performance of its part of the contract. The balance of the purchase price was evidenced by notes of Norman & Company in the sum of $340,000.00. At the end of the four months drying period, this will also be available for credit on the note in the sum of $19,500.00, which would leave a balance due of $40,000.00. In terms of feet of Tupelo lumber, it would mean that something less than two million feet are necessary before the balance of the $340,000.00 will be paid in full. After these notes have been paid in full, future deliveries of the Tupelo lumber will result in a ratable surrender of the $100,000.00 deposited by E. B. Herrmann & Company with the Texas company as a part of the original contract. When the company shall have delivered about four and one-half million additional feet of lumber, the entire $100,000.00 will have been surrendered. From information available, it will cost about $54,000.00 to produce the requisite amount of lumber to obtain the surrender of the $100,000.00 deposit. Your examiner was advised that the maker company is supposed to have on hand between eight million and nine million feet of sawed timber, which is said to represent an average cost of about $30.00 per thousand, and that based on 1927 sales, can reasonably be expected to sell for about $47.00 per thousand. Based on these figures, there would appear to be an inventory at this time of about $350,000.00. The loan is secured about as follows: Assigned invoices $131,308.95 Value of deposit with the Texas company 46,000.00 Chattel mortgage on inventory 270,000.00 Lien note for 18,000.00 covering property sold to R.L. The value of the Cherokee Park property is potentially greater than it is as a present sale proposition. Your examiner, together with two officers of the bank, examined this property about a year and a half or two years ago. At that time it was thought that in ediate steps would be taken to realize some of the potential value of the company, but thus far no tangible results have followed. The property is unquestionably high-class, and a survey of it leads to the conclusion that it ought to sell readily, but as a matter of fact it has not sold and this large frozen loan remains in the bank. Your examiner has made some inquiry concerning the value of the Cherokee Park property and one authority appraised it at $1,25,000.00. It is said that if properly promoted it might sell for from $200,000.00 to $250,000.00. This, however, would result in considerable expense and it might not be successfully promoted. It is hoped that a strenuous effort will be made by the management of the bank to liquidate this rigid asset.

$200,000.00 Van Camp Packing Company Unsecured. This loan has been criticised in various previous reports of examination, due to the fact that no financial statement has been available whereby the financial condition of the company might be determined. The persistent absence of this data lead to the fear that the company might be operating without sufficient working capital. This fear was established as a fact when it was admitted in the letter of the company to its bondholders on July 22, 1932, that the management of the company had been unable to meet existing conditions, and "that the earning power, present and prospective of the company, has suffered accordingly. This has been due to a lack of working capital, which the current earnings of the business have been insufficient to supply. For the future success of the business, therefore, we believe it is vital to put the company in a strong competitive position by supplying it with additional cash resources." These statements confirmed the fears of your examiners. A reorganization plan has been agreed upon, in fact, it is believed by the management of the bank that it has been practically consummated. If consummated, it will result in placing in the company at least two and one quarter million dollars of new money. The amount of new money may reach as much as five or six million dollars. The amount is dependent on the degree in which old stockholders exercise their rights to subscribe for new stock. A minimum of $2,250,000.00 has already been underwritten. No statement is yet available, but it is claimed that even the minimum amount of new money will give the company adequate working capital. EXTRA SHEET PAGE 4-B8			$200,000.00		Paid

E. E. Woods - - - - Contd. It is claimed that there are a number of oil producing wells on the land at this time and that a stock company has been formed and the stock is being sold. It is said that the money is being deposited in a bank in Bowling Green. The capital stock is to be $200,000.00, the first $100,000.00 to be applied in payment of this loan. If the enterprise is successful, the loan, of course, will be paid. Pending its success your examiner has classed a portion of the loan as doubtful.

Maker, indorser, and security Amount	Overdue Class "A"	Overdue Class "B"	Slow	Doubtful	Loss
Carried at $9,255.71 Peoples Bank, Springfield, Tenn. Your examiner was advised that the bank is expecting to pay a 5% dividend within the next few months. The opinion was expressed that the collection of collateral, plus the dividend, would amount to $4,048.07. After the payment of the dividend further dividends and further collections are problematical. It is thought possible that an additional 5% might be declared, but it would be deferred for a long period. It was stated that there was a possibility that further collection of the collateral might amount to as much as $2,700.00, but there was no firm opinion expressed in this respect. The bank has a suit against the Nashville Trust Company covering the claim which is carried in Bonds and Securities for $12,434.25. If this suit should be successful, the claim plus interest, would, of course, be collected. If the suit should be unsuccessful, the bank would have a second mortgage on some real estate, with the possibility of working out a part or all of the claim through the sale of the equity. This however, is problematical, and under the circumstances your examiner believes that periodical charges to Profit and Loss should be made, in order to anticipate an unfavorable outcome of the matter. Estimated loss charged off during this examination.	9,255.71		4,255.71		5,000.00
Carried at $44,775.14 Planters Bank, Clarksdale, Miss. The opinion was expressed that all good banks should charge off as a loss all of the loan except such part as is covered by the Anderson payments. LARGE LINES (NOT TECHNICALLY EXCESSIVE LOANS)

List here all lines of credit which are believed to be subject to criticism, as representing unwarranted extensions of credit to the same or affiliated interests. Include loans, stocks, bonds, or other forms of credit, and explain briefly nature of affiliation. State whether line is disproportionate to bank's resources, or too large in view of financial standing of the borrowers, or why, otherwise, line is thought unwarranted. If any portion of these lines constitutes an excessive loan, such portion should be included also with excessive loans. If a portion only of a large line is included on page 4, include that portion here, but if the whole of a large line is shown on page 4, show only the aggregate here. Describe security, if any, and make any other comment deemed appropriate. Where aggregate line exceeds limit Sec. 5200 state reason for not classing as excessive loan.

The items described under this line are either direct obligations of the Campbell interests, are secured by stocks of those concerns, or have come into the bank by reason of contract, past or present, with Mr. Campbell by this bank or by the constituent banks composing it.

On the basis of the present market this stock has adequate value to protect the loan. If the Van Camp Packing Company refinancing plans are consummated, this loan will doubtless be paid.

Cadet Knitting Company $45,000.00
Your examiner was advised that Mr. Rogers Caldwell has agreed upon a plan of refinancing this company that will result in the payment of this loan within thirty to forty days.

$154,000.00 note Campbell Heath & Company, secured by 36,902 shs. Cadet Knitting Mills Company,

Your examiner was advised that the refinancing plan of the Cadet Knitting Company will involve the purchase of this stock at a figure that will liquidate the loan. Even if the Cadet Knitting Company refinancing should fail, the endorser, Wm. D. Campbell, should be able to pay the loan, through the re-organization of the Van Camp Packing Company.

This company has handled its indebtedness to the bank in a satisfactory manner, the debt being frequently paid out.

$550,000.00 first mortgage 7's, due '44, carried in Bond Account at 336,499.00
(See discussion of Murray Rubber Company under Slow Loans.)
This loan is listed under the Campbell Line on account of the fact that the paper of the predecessor company came into either this bank or some of its constituent banks through the Campbell interests. Your examiner was advised that the Campbell interests have been entirely divorced from the Murray Rubber Company for some time. This being true, no assistance will be rendered the company on account of the improved fortunes of Mr. Campbell, resulting from the re-organization of the Van Camp Packing Company and the Cadet Knitting Company. If the Murray Rubber Company shall be rehabilitated, it must be accomplished by Messrs. Murray and Morrison.

CRITICISMS

1. Overdue Loans described on Page 4 and on supplemental pages.	The amount is much too large and many are permitted to run much too long. Management has promised to give overdue loans more intensive attention. It was also agreed that "Charged off" items should receive more intensive effort.
2. Slow and doubtful loans described on Page 4 and on supplemental pages.	These should receive vigorous attention.
3. Other Loans Especially Mentioned, described on pages supplemental to Page 6.	Before renewing these loans, due consideration should be given to the classification of the examiner.
4. Large Lines described on pages supplemental to Page 6.	This is a source of potential danger and close attention should be given. If the plans for refinancing Kentucky Wagon Co., Van Camp Packing Co., and Cadet Knitting Co. are consummated, it will result in the elimination of the Kentucky Wagon Co. Line and in a large reduction of the Campbell Line. The Consolidated Realty Co. Line is too large and is not properly collateraled.
5. Losses described on Page 4 and on supplemental pages; on pages supplemental to Page 7; and on pages supplemental to Page 8,	Charged off during this examination.
6. Overdrafts.	The last published report of condition of this bank showed overdrafts aggregating $271,502.68. This is the largest amount of published overdrafts that has ever come to the attention of your examiner. It is the subject of comments by other bankers, and has in a degree embarrassed examiners. Of course the effect cannot be favorable to the bank. The largest overdrafts included in the published report were: Kentucky Wagon Co. 89,154.17 Herald-Post Co. 164,691.77 253,845.94 Both of these are Directors Corporations. Pres. Brown placed on special deposit 5,000 shares Standard Oil Co. of Kentucky as collateral to protect the Herald-Post Co. indebtedness. The The value of this collateral makes the Herald-Post overdraft unquestionably good, but does not eliminate the unfavorable effects resulting from the publication of such large overdrafts.

6. Overdrafts (Continued)

President Brown advised your examiner that he expects to put the overdraft of the Kentucky Wagon Co. in proper form at once, and that he expects to pay the Herald-Post overdraft by November 15.

7. Illegal Real Estate Loan of E.H.Woods.

See description under Slow Loans.

8. Own stock held as collateral.

2 shares held on loan of P.D.McCulloch. Taken D.P.C.

10 shares held on loan of Louis Reis. This was formerly stock of Louisville Trust Co. before that stock was unified with stock of National Bank of Kentucky.

9. Minutes of Directors' Meetings not signed by President Brown for past two years.

President Brown advised your examiner that he will sign these minutes immediately.

10. Loans sold to country correspondents.

Some of these loans are secured by collateral of an unliquid type. In fact it would be almost impossible for the purchasing banker or an examiner to ascertain any market value.

11. Kentucky Wagon Company Loan

Technically this would appear to be an excessive loan but practically, the bank owns the plant. This being true, any increase in the loan merely represents an increase in the carrying value of the plant.

It was agreed that $100,000 will be charged off on this asset 1-10-29, unless the deal now pending has been consumated by that time.

12. Credit Department.

The general character of credit advances made by bank has materially improved during the past few years. The credit department has been brought to a higher standard, but further improvement could be made.

It has been suggested for the past several examinations that any information relating to a borrower which is obtained by officers through conferences, or otherwise, should be reduced to a memorandum and placed in the credit file. This practice has not been adopted. It is strongly urged that itbe adopted, otherwise the information obtained would be lost to the bank in case of the death of the officer who obtained it.

All letters and reports relating to borrowers should be placed in the individual credit files, and not in the general correspondence files.

State whether special or regular examination: REGULAR

A copy of this report of examination is furnished to the Board of Directors of the examined bank for their information and consideration. The information contained therein is based upon the records and books of the bank and upon statements made to the Examiner by officers and employees of the bank, and on data secured from other sources believed to be reliable, and presumed by the Examiner to be correct.

Much of the information in regard to the assets of the bank is of such a character as to make it necessary for the Examiner to rely upon the good faith and assurances of his informants, and while the Examiner regards the statements so accepted by him as correct, he is, necessarily, not in a position to guarantee the accuracy of each part of the information as may not have been obtained at first hand.

LOANS AND DISCOUNTS IN GENERAL

1. To what general lines of industry or classes of borrowers are loans chiefly made?

Banks, bankers, brokers, merchants, manufacturers, real estate operators, lumber concerns, mining interests, tobacco interests, finance concerns, etc. SEE EXTRA SHEET

2. Is distribution satisfactory both as to classes of borrowers and amounts of loans?

See Large Lines described on Page 6 and on supplemental pages.

3. State as to the general character of collaterals, and advise if a collateral register is maintained.

Collateral register maintained.

4. List direct and indirect loans to corporations or enterprises in which any director or officer is largely interested, giving name of interested director or officer. If any borrow unduly, also list on pages 5, 6, or 7 according to their classification.

SEE EXTRA SHEET

5. Any liability of directors or officers as makers or indorsers which is subject to criticism? Describe fully, and give reasons.

SEE EXTRA SHEET

6. State whether all paper claimed by the bank as its property, including collateral, appears to be properly indorsed or assigned to it, and all mortgages properly recorded and all collateral accounted for.

Yes

7. Give highest, lowest and average rate of interest obtained.

4½ - 7.8% and 6%

8. Does the bank place paper with other banks, and to what extent? (This refers to paper not shown properly upon the books as a rediscount liability.) Bank has placed with country correspondent banks a large number of loans selected from its own files. While there is no expressed liability on part of this bank it has to take these loans up when the country banks send them in. As a practical proposition they are bills payable. SEE EXTRA SHEET for list of loans that do not measure up [illegible].

9. Does this bank appear to be liable in any way, as indorser or guarantor by letter or separate agreement, or through indorsement of directors or officers, for benefit of bank? If a contingent liability caused by signing of a blanket guaranty or agreement for Bank's benefit exists, describe fully.

No legal liability. See above.

10. Do they take loans to accommodate other banks, and to what extent?

Some loans are taken for the accommodation of country correspondents.

11. Does sending bank appear to be in any way liable? (See No. 10.)
List liabilities of National Banks.

SEE EXTRA SHEET

12. Is adequate credit data available either in form of financial statements or otherwise? (Note.—Examiner should require that adequate data be available and steps be taken to maintain such files and data.)

Credit department has made vast improvement since it was re-organized. Further improvement is recommended.

*Include in "bad debts" only those bonds which have reached actual maturity dates, and otherwise come within the definition of a statutory bad debt.

Of the current liabilities $340,600.00 consists of debenture bonds which are considered current on account of the fact that the trust agreement provides that the company shall maintain net quick assets equal to 125% of the bonded indebtedness. This contract has been breached, hence the bonds can be considered as due. Caldwell and Company are figuring on reorganizing the company by paying in new capital in the sum of $1,190,000.00, for which Caldwell and Company will receive debentures aggregating $1,000,000.00, preferred stock aggregating $300,000.00 and 72,000 shares of common stock. Giving effect to the consummation of this deal, the statement would show current assets $1,140,000.00, current liabilities - none, other assets $1,235,000.00, debentures $1,000,000.00 net worth $1,375,000.00. During this examination, one of the officers of the bank called the Nashville office of Caldwell and Company to ascertain the status of the reorganization. He was advised that the deal had been completed and that the new stock is now ready to be issued. On the completion of this deal, the loan will be paid.		45,000.00	45,000.00

Messrs. Campbell and Pepper have each agreed to assume one-half of this note, each to be secured by $50,000.00 Murray Rubber Co. note as above described. There is said to be an agreement between the bank and Messrs. Pepper and Campbell that the bank will carry the notes for three years. The goodness of the loan depends on the financial strength of the makers, plus the operating results of the Murray Rubber Co. as reorganized. (See discussion of the loan of the Murray Rubber Company). The loan is, of course, undesirable.

Your examiner was advised that this loan is to be paid when the reorganization of the Cadet Knitting Company has been consummated. Mr. Pepper is to pay part and Mr. Campbell is to pay part. 15,227.50 Columbia Phosphate Mining Co. This loan has been in the bank for a long time. The company has a contract with the Armour Fertilizer Company, whereby the Armour Company shall mine and pay for 25,000 prepared and dry tons during its first year's operations, dating twelve months from the time shipments begin. On the first 30,000 tons shipped there shall be no payment as this will cover the $15,000.00 royalty advanced on the contract by Armour Company. The price is seventy-five cents per long ton. It is claimed that the minimum requirements of the Armour Company will be 50,000 tons per annum. At the time of the last examination, it was thought that operations would probably commence in the early months of 1929. During this examination your examiner was advised that operations have not yet commenced on contract and it was impossible to name a definite date on which they will start.			15,227.50

It is noted that 85% of the bills receivable is secured by vacant property. This is very undesirable. The liquidation on this collateral is rather slow. During the seven month intervening since last examination, the amounts collected on these collateral notes aggregates only $33,350.04, the balance of the reduction on the loan, other than through said collections, having been obtained through other sources. It is also noted that a number of these collateral notes are overdue, as is shown by the following figures:
Overdue one month $60,414.10 Overdue two months 18,541.82 Overdue three months 8,682.23 Overdue four months 9,836.00 Overdue five months 4,734.06 Overdue six months to nine months 18,183.78 Overdue nine months to several years 84,223.08

The statement of the company dated 12-31-28 shows a total direct debt of $4,754,696.00. The operating statement shows a loss of $158,278.00; however, dividends were paid aggregating $57,748.00. Among the rediscounts of the company with this bank is a note of the Louisville Realty Company for $45,875.00. In an audited statement of the Louisville Realty Company, this liability is not shown. The auditor showed the liability in the audited statement of the Consolidated Realty Company, his investigation disclosing the fact that it was in reality a direct obligation of the Consolidated Realty Company that the Louisville Realty Company received no benefit of the proceeds of the loan. It is difficult to understand why the Louisville Realty Company executed the note. It certainly misled the management of thisbank at the time the note was taken. The direct loan of the Consolidated Realty Company to this bank has been reduced $67,250.00 since last examination and the indirect liability has been reduced $15,885.71.

The Kentucky River Coal Company, the "land-lord" of the Day Coal and Mining Company, has claimed priority on certain rental obligations. In a recent decision, the lower court upheld the claim of the Kentucky River Coal Corporation. The National Bank of Kentucky hopes to win the case in a higher court. However, the sole assets of the Day Coal and Mining Company consist of machinery of uncertain value. In view of all the facts, the loan is regarded as a present loss and was charged off during this examination.	5,600.00				5,600.00

Of the current assets, 88,000.00 consists of inventory. Statement shows a loss to net worth of 3,398.00. It is believed that the stock of the Herald-Post Company has more than sufficient value to pay the loan, but there seems to be some complication between the parties at interest. It is the opinion of your examiner that immediate steps should be taken to foreclose the collateral and obtain possession of it. During the last six months of 1928, the company sustained an operating loss of only 1,218.00. This was a very substantial reduction of the heavy losses previously sustained. The company is under an agreement to pay 6,000.00 per annum rental for the building it occupies, covering an unexpired term of seven years. In case of liquidation, this lease would probably be a considerable embarrassment to the creditors. March 7, 1927, the National Bank of Kentucky guaranteed the Louisville National Bank against loss to the extent of 4,000.00, on account of a loan of the company held by the Louisville National Bank. The latter bank is now an allied institution of the National Bank of Kentucky.			1,206.20

Operations for fiscal year ended 7-31-28 showed that the company was still operating at a loss. During this examination, President Board and Secretary Jaegers, of the Kentucky Wagon Manufacturing Company, came to the bank and discussed the affairs of the company at some length with your examiner. The company is still confronted with the proposition of increasing its out-put and sales to a point where the company can operate at a profit. Kentucky Wagon Mfg. Co. (Continued) The officers of the company estimated that its sales for the fiscal year ended 7-31-29 will be approximately 1,100,000.00. This, taken in connection with the inventory shown in the statement, aggregating 1,762,704.00, is sufficient evidence that the company is not functioning normally. Your examiner appreciates the difficulites confronting the company. When the manufacture of farm wagons ceased to be profitable, the problem was presented of converting the immense plant into the manufacture of other commodities to profitably employ the facilities of the plant. Necessarily, this involved a great deal of expensive experimentation. It was also impossible to avoid mistakes in some of the experiments. The management of the company expressed the opinion that some of the experiments would prove to be profitable. Hope was especially expressed in relation to the manufacture of trailers and commercial bodies. One of benefits resulting from this operation has been the fact that the plant continued as a going concern, with the added value that attaches to a going concern over an idle plant. In the opinion of your examiner, the collection of this loan in full or in any large part is contingent on a favorable sale of the plant to some concern, the production of whose output can be adapted to the plant. At the time of the last examination, as is shown in that report, strong hopes were entertained of selling the plant to French interests. That deal fell through and the management of the company is now trying to interest other concerns. Since last examination this line has increased $57,932.07. One of the disturbing facts in connection with this asset is the progressive increase in amount that has been shown. The first examination made of this bank by your examiner was in November 1925. The aggregate amount of the loan at that time was 1,039,000.00. Since that time, there has been charged to Profit and Loss 650,000.00.

Kentucky Wagon Mfg. Co. (Continued) The line now is $01,474.38 greater than it was at that time. This difference, plus the amount charged off, equals $51,474.38. Thus it will be seen that the line has increased to almost double its amount at the time of the first examination. Just how much of this represents loss in operations could probably be determined only through an audit by a certified public accountant. Your examiner feels that the realizable value of this asset is so uncertain that the management of the bank should continue to make some substantial charges to Profit and Loss on account of it. The matter was discussed at some length at an officers' meeting. Your examiner was advised that a plan is in contemplation whereby a sort of a finance and holding company will be organized with a large capital stock, say twenty million dollars. The holding company will hold, among other things, the stock of the National Bank of Kentucky and its affiliated bank through a surrender and exchange of stock of the bank for stock of the company on some satisfactory basis. It is also contemplated that the holding company will acquire, and through a term of years work out certain assets of the bank, among others, probably the Kentucky Wagon Manufacturing Company. In view of the contemplated organization of the holding company, your examiner was requested to waive any charge to Profit and Loss at this time on account of the Kentucky Wagon Manufacturing Company loan. Your examiner suggested that the matter might be deferred until the next examination, provided the management of the bank would agree that if the Kentucky Wagon Manufacturing Company loan is not removed from the bank by the time of the next examination, a charge of $00,000.00 to Profit and Loss would be made on the loan. It later developed that the proposed plan of consolidation is likely to be consummated at an early date, hence the matter of charge off was dropped.

5,916.00 George D. Morrison, et al These parties are promoting a Mammoth Cave proposition. It has been claimed for several examinations that funds would be raised by public subscription to purchase this property and that on completion of this deal funds would be available to pay this loan, but nothing has been done.				5,916.00
125,000.00 Murray Rubber Company Statement dated 4-30-29 shows current assets 1,124,018.00; fixed assets 1,933,932.00; deferred charges 71,026.00; current liabilities 399,884.00; first mortgage bonds 500,000.00; debenture bonds 1,150,000.00; interest receivable 9,625.00; net worth 862,582.00. The above statement gives effect to refinancing by Caldwell and Company of Nashville, Tenn. Caldwell and Company is said to have put 450,000.00 into the business, for which the company received 500,000.00 first Mortgage bonds and one-third of the common stock. So far as the figures in the statement are concerned, the only advantage is to give the company new working capital. In general, the statement shows an indebtedness of 2,049,884.00 against a net worth of 862,582.00. In other words, the debt of the company is two and one-half times its net worth. The statement shows a loss to net worth, as compared with the statement dated 9-30-28, of 346,585.00. It is evident that the company could not continue to operate long without a radical change in the result of its operations. The operating loss for April, was 29,883.00. A few more months with such results would surely lead to insolvency. The encouraging feature of the situation is the fact that the sales of the company are increasing. A favorable arrangement is said to have been made whereby the tires of the company are being sold by a large number of retail agencies.			125,000.00

Murray Rubber Company (Continued) Apparently this result is being accomplished without any considerable expense to the company. The number of tires sold during April is reported as 765 per day. It is said that double this number would show about an "even break" in operations and that treble the number would show a net profit of about 20,000.00 per month. The belief is expressed by the management of the bank that the contacts of Caldwell and Company will serve to increase the daily sales of the company to 3,000 tires. If, and when, this can be done the company should be on the road to prosperity. Unless this can be done bank is almost certain to suffer heavy loss. In the refinancing this bank surrendered first mortgage bonds and acquired debenture bonds.

After that has been done, further deliveries of Tupelo to the Texas company will result in a corresponding surrender of the 100,000.00 originally paid the Texas company. It is estimated it will cost about 84,000.00 to produce the amount of Tupelo necessary for the surrender of the 100,000.00 originally paid. Vice-President Akers advised your examiner that an endeavor will be made to raise 150,000.00 new capital for the company. It is also hoped that a substantial amount, say 100,000.00 to 150,000.00 will be realized from the sale of inventory after the completion of the Tupelo contract. If this can be done, the statement of the company will be placed in a more workable condition. As the matter now stands, the bank has predominant ownership of a mill and timber property in the State of Louisiana. It will be a great relief, if, and when, this large indebtedness of the company to the bank can be liquidated. It is a particularly heavy burden for the bank to bear during a time when it is having to use liberally the rediscount privileges of the Federal Reserve Bank.

The bank also holds insurance policies covering the life of Giles B. Van Cleve in the sum of 245,500.00. It is difficult to arrive at the value of the Cherokee Park property. Two officers of the bank took your examiner over this property about two years ago. It unquestionably possesses large potential value. The trouble lies in the fact that no action has been taken in the past to realize this value. The property is now in the hands of a specialist in this line of work. The unfortunate phase of the situation lies in the fact that during the past few years real estate values have declined and it may be more difficult at this time to successfully sell the property than it would have been then. No. of Bank 5518 Date of Report May 25, 1939.

CRITICISMS.

1.	Overdue Loans, described on Page 4 and on supplemental pages.	The amount of overdue paper continues to be too large.
2.	Slow and doubtful loans, described on Page 4 and on supplemental pages.	The aggregate of sub-standard loans continues to be large. The big problem of management is to "work out" these loans without sustaining excessive losses. Some of these large items are to be taken over by proposed holding company.
3.	Other Loans Especially Mentioned, described on pages supplemental to Page 6.	Before renewing these loans, management can well give consideration to the classification of your examiner.
4.	Large Lines, described on pages supplemental to Page 6.	A grave potential danger lies in these large concentrations of credit.
5.	Leases.	The matter was discussed in meeting of officers. It was also discussed in a conference with President Brown. It is expected that the bank will be functioning as a State institution within ninety days. In view of this fact, the management requested that the matter of "charging off" leases be waived.
6.	Overdrafts	Still permitted in an unwarranted degree, especially in the case of the Kentucky Wagon Mfg. Co.
7.	Illegal Real Estate Loans of E. H. Woods	It is expected that property will be sold in small tracts at auction.
8.	Minutes not signed by President Brown.	This omission was set out in previous report of examination.

During examination, negotiations were carried on between a committee from the board of directors of a local life insurance company with the Carter Guaranty Company for sale of this property on the basis of the above valuation. Your examiner was advised that this committee unanimously reported their approval of the purchase. If this trade is eventually consummated it will do much to expedite the liquidation of this company. It will be observed that this debt shows an increase over the preceding report of $163,740.98. Your examiner was advised that the operations since that report continue to show a loss. At the present time the management of the bank is negotiating with interests in an effort to sell the plant to an aviation manufacturing company, also to a large electrical manufacturing company which expects to begin the manufacture of electrical refrigerators. Your attention is invited to the fact that in addition to the present carrying value of the debt the bank has heretofore charged off $600,000.00. It is evident that the size of this debt is one which may well cause the management considerable concern.	$1,904,294.31		661,882.01	604,294.31	300,000.00	300,000.00

LARGE LINES (NOT TECHNICALLY EXCESSIVE LOANS)

List here all lines of credit which are believed to be subject to criticism, as representing unwarranted extensions of credit to the same or affiliated interests. Include loans, stocks, bonds, or other forms of credit, and explain briefly nature of affiliation. State whether line is disproportionate to bank's resources, or too large in view of financial standing of the borrowers, or why, otherwise, line is thought unwarranted. If any portion of these lines constitutes an excessive loan, such portion should be included also with excessive loans. If a portion only of a large line is included on page 4, include that portion here, but if the whole of a large line is shown on page 4, show only the aggregate here. Describe security, if any, and make any other comment deemed appropriate. Where aggregate line exceeds limit Sec. 5200 state reason for not classing as excessive loan.

Names of borrowers and guarantors	Subtotal of line	Total of line
SEE EXTRA SHEET..

OTHER LOANS ESPECIALLY MENTIONED

Large loans not included in Slow or Doubtful schedules but which, because of apparently unsatisfactory statement, disproportionate amount of borrowed money, absence of statement, shortage of collateral, or other specified reason, it seems desirable to list for information. Include here all large loans of a capital nature.

Guy D. and Eugene R. Atkinson Agents for Maryland Casualty Company. Statement shows $41,000.00 assets and $30,000.00 debt. This is a new loan as company paid out since last examination.		$ 5,500.00
David Baird & Son Wholesale milliners. Statement dated 6-30-29 shows current assets $326,000.00, current debt $114,000.00, net worth $251,000.00. Company's analysis of receivables indicates that they have a heavy volume of undesirable items contained therein. Bank is getting reduction on line every thirty days, and in addition is getting the direct line worked into discounts as rapidly as good notes can be taken.	Direct Discounts	27,500.00 13,964.56

ITEMS REQUIRING ATTENTION

(1) Excessive Loans

The borrowing matter of discussion at each examination for past several years. Bank should take immediate steps to reduce debt to legal limit, and take care to observe the provisions of the law with respect to limit of loans.

(2) Slow and Doubtful Assets.

The total of these undesirable and sub-standard assets is disproportionate to the size of the bank. Management must give these items aggressive but constructive attention, or your examiner is of the opinion that further substantial losses will develop.

(3) Other Loans Especially Mentioned.

To receive attention.

(4) Large Lines.

Attention is invited to the three large lines of credit set out elsewhere in this report. Undoubtedly the volume is unwarranted. These schedules were discussed at length with management.

To the Comptroller of the Currency,
Washington, D. C.

Examiner should advise bank interest on demand or time loans should be collected at least every six months, and that mere payment of interest is not considered a renewal of the loan unless formal extension agreement is signed by all parties or the laws of the State provide otherwise. A new note, if practicable, at each maturity date is preferable.
*Include in "bad debts" only those bonds which have reached actual maturity dates, and otherwise come within the definition of a statutory bad debt.

$110,555.87 Carter Guaranty Company The overdue note is jointly secured with a note of even amount held by the Liberty Bank & Trust Company, Louisville, Ky. Security consists of a second lien on property located on the west side of Fifth Street between Walnut and Liberty Streets; also some adjoining property improved by a repair garage. The two parcels are valued at $180,000.00, with prior liens of $68,000.00. Efforts are still being made to sell the Fifth Street property to the Commonwealth Life Insurance Company for $135,000.00, but thus far no results have been obtained. Bank holds $69,800.00 Rudolph and Bauer 6% bonds. The bonds are secured by a first lien on industrial property which was purchased for $95,000.00. The bank also held $10,000.00 International Bolt Company bonds. The property securing the bonds was sold and purchased by the Carter Guaranty Company, the deed being taken in the name of said company. Bank Sterling Savings & Building Association; $10,010.00 real estate notes, of which $3,700. are past due. Reduced $1,440.81 since last examination. The line of the Consolidated Realty Company is in an exceedingly unsatisfactory condition. The assets of the company appear to be "frozen" and when one of them is sold no money seems to be available for the general creditors of the company. Mr. Hieatt was called in during the examination and your examiner was present at a conference between Mr. Hieatt and the officers of the bank. Apparently the hope of liquidation lies through collection of installments on notes secured by unimproved property, or through some fortunate deal that the company may make. If, at the time of the next examination, substantial progress has not been made in the affairs of the company, some of the notes should be charged to Profit and Loss.			10,280.01	7,197.50	3082.51 ✓

The loan is very undesirable and should be collected; however, the management of the bank deserves credit for having obtained such large reductions in these loans. It appears that prior to the failure a representative of the National Bank of Kentucky arranged to sell the stock held as collateral for $12,500.00, but the Atlantic Bank and Trust Company declined to transfer the stock, thereby blocking the sale. It appears probable that the National Bank of Kentucky will obtain a judgment against the failed bank for $12,500.00. The value of such a claim, however, is problematical. It will be a general and not a preferred claim. The loan is probably almost a total loss, but this information was not received until after meeting, hence loan was not included in list of losses presented to directors. It should be charged off at next examination, if it has not been charged off prior to that time.				6,500.00	Same

The value of the collateral is problematical. Apparently the market is President Brown. Your examiner has discussed the matter with President Brown for several years. About a year and a half ago, President Brown agreed that he would get the loan out of the bank by the next examination, but the loan remains unchanged. It seems that the widow of the deceased holds some stock of the company other than the stock pledged as collateral on this loan. President Brown desires to buy all of the stock, and is delaying buying the collateral stock for that reason. Your examiner believes that matter has already been delayed much too long, and that steps should be taken for bank to acquire the collateral. It can then be offered for sale. Since writing the above, President Brown has agreed to take the loan out of the bank by September 1, 1930, unless it has been collected by that time.	27,734.74			27,734.74

Deferred Charges $11,[illegible]; Mortgage Indebtedness $640,[illegible].00; Net Worth $385,649.00. Statement shows an operating loss of $8,219.00. It further shows a reduction in working capital of $52,688.00 with a corresponding reduction in current liabilities of only $24,879.00. The continuing losses in operations, and the gradual reduction of the working capital, used partly to pay maturing bonds, have gotten the company in such condition that the unsecured debt of the company to the bank would appear to be a loss. Representatives of the bondholders of the company in Chicago held a meeting May 13, 1930, which was attended by the directors of the maker company. It seems that $10,000.00 bonds of the company maturing in April defaulted. The bondholders made a tentative suggestion that if shareholders of company would put new capital into the company and would refinance it that the bondholders would take 75% of the par value of the bonds in settlement. A meeting of shareholders was held May 16, at which meeting a committee was appointed with instructions to work out a plan for refinancing company and report same at an early date. If enough money is paid into the business the unsecured creditors should be able to escape loss. If bonds are foreclosed the unsecured creditors will probably suffer a total loss. At present the loss appears to be very doubtful.

Ky. Wagon Mfg. Co. - Cont'd.
On the basis of the figures in the statement, the company would appear to be reasonably good, but the figures evidently do not represent sound values. The fixed assets have been discussed repeatedly heretofore. They consist of thirty-two acres of ground, adjoining two railroads, with a number of factory buildings. The value is problematical as the bank has never had a firm bid for the property.
The statement shows under Current Assets, Finished Stock and Work in Process $1,180,932.63, Raw Materials and Supplies $786,969.80, making a total inventory of $1,907,902.43. Operating figures were not given as of 3-31-30, but on July 31, 1929, the figures shown by the books of the company are: Finished Stock and Work in Process 1,087,347.00 Raw Materials and Supplies 742,580.00 Total 1,829,907.00
The operating details show total gross sales $946,250.04. These figures will not "stand up." That the inventory should be approximately twice the amount of the annual sales is an operating abnormality that cannot be explained. It is true that a portion of raw material consists of old parts inherited from the two predecessor companies, but the finished product and work in process cannot be explained away on this basis. It is noted that this item alone, is sharply in excess of the annual sales.
It does not require an analysis of the statement of the company, however, to reveal the deplorable condition that exists. On 11-7-28, the line amounted to $1,164,894.88. Since that time, $700,000.00 has been charged to Profit and Loss on account of this line. In spite of this fact, however, the line has increased to $1,576,569.87. In other words, after charging $700,000.00 to Profit and Loss the line is $411,672.82 greater than it was at the time the first charge off was made.

This shows a total increase of $1,111,672.82. This increase cannot be accounted for on any reasonable basis. The company is habitually overdrawn. The following figures may be illuminating. There have been overdrafts of the company that have been periodically covered by notes as follows:
12-31-28 $91,000.00
6-29-29 $99,000.00
10-2-29 $85,000.00
12-31-29 $5,122.00
The management of the company continues to increase the amount which this bank is advancing to the enterprise, and apparently the management of the bank is unable to restrict these advances. The result has been a real tragedy to the bank, which has found expression in the $700,000.00 already charged off and the additional loss that at this time appears to be resident in the asset.
Twice in recent years, it has appeared that the bank had a chance to dispose of the property on a basis that would result in substantial recovery. No doubt, if the company could find an enterprise whose operations could be so adjusted as to use the fixed assets of the company, the property could be disposed of at a good price. No prospect is in evidence at this time.
At a meeting with the board of directors, May 16, 1930, it was agreed that the entire line will be taken out of the bank by September 1, 1930.
In view of this agreement no action was requested at this time with respect to charging off the loss estimated on the line.

Heretofore, criticisms of the Dennis H. Long line have been mild on account of the large value of the stock of the Fourth Avenue Amusement Company. However, the affairs of the amusement company have become so extended that the value of the stock is more or less problematical. An effort is being made to sell the holdings of the amusement company to Warner Brothers. Thus far, no deal has been consummated. Your examiner believes that this line is getting too large, especially in view of the extended condition of the amusement company.

According to the statement, if all of the assets of the company, including deferred charges, were worth 100%, the company would show a debt of $2,568,664.00, against a net worth of only $514,624.00. Information received, however, indicates that the value of the plant is subject to very heavy depreciation. Apparently, there is enough loss on the fixed assets alone to entirely wipe out the net worth, shown by the books, and leave instead a deficit of from $800,000.00 to $900,000.00. The record of the company for the period from June, 1929, to March 31, 1930, shows an operating loss of $326,002.34 - total loss $490,002.80. The record of operating loss has been maintained up to March 31, 1930. Your examiner was advised that the operations for April are expected to show a small profit. It is hard to conceive of the company continuing to make money from operations unless additional working capital is supplied. As the matter now stands, the company is apparently insolvent. Even if the earnings of the company progressively improve, it is absolutely imperative that a substantial amount of new capital shall be placed in the company. In its present condition, your examiner cannot do other than estimate a substantial loss in this line, but no "charge off" was requested now as an agreement was made at meeting of your examiner with directors, May 16, 1930, that entire line will be taken out of bank by September 1, 1930.	580000 - 106491.78		1101508.52 Est.	memo of 994.1495	500,000.00 receivable in Collection Department, aggregating $54,863.86. Company is in liquidation. Loan has been reduced $546.00 since last examination. It was hoped that collection could be made out of the collateral, but this seems to be a very slow process. The notes held as collateral must be of doubtful solvency, or the collections would have been larger.

Of this amount $13,690.00 is due from the Diamond Taxi Company. The lack of distribution in the receivables is unfavorable. It is also noted that of the inventory, $12,597.00 consists of used cars. LARGE LINES (NOT TECHNICALLY EXCESSIVE LOANS)

List here all lines of credit which are believed to be subject to criticism, as representing unwarranted extensions of credit to the same or affiliated interests. Include loans, stocks, bonds, or other forms of credit, and explain briefly nature of affiliation. State whether line is disproportionate to bank's resources, or too large in view of financial standing of the borrowers, or why, otherwise, line is thought unwarranted. If any portion of these lines constitutes an excessive loan, such portion should be included also with excessive loans. If a portion only of a large line is included on page 4, include that portion here, but if the whole of a large line is shown on page 4, show only the aggregate here. Describe security, if any, and make any other comment deemed appropriate. Where aggregate line exceeds limit Sec. 5200 state reason for not classing as excessive loan.

RECAPITULATION OF LOANS SECURED IN WHOLE OR IN PART BY STOCK OF BANCOKENTUCKY

Attention is called to this large concentration of credit. Of course, some of the makers of these loans have financial worth in addition to the collateral. In some cases, however, the makers of simable loans have limited financial worth aside from the collateral securing the loans. It is noted that a number of the loans are inadequately secured, and in some cases it is impossible to obtain additional collateral.

It is the opinion of your examiner that some of the officers and employees were induced to purchase more of the stock of BancoKentucky than they were able to successfully handle. Unless the stock increases substantially in price, it will be a real problem to keep up the interest charges and make any reductions on principal. The problem will be especially difficult in cases where the collateral is insufficient.

It is always an undesirable situation when too large an amount of the funds of a bank are placed where they are dependant on the success of any one enterprise.

In this case there may be some question as to the legality of loans secured by the stock of BancoKentucky. The largest asset of the company is the stock of the National Bank of Kentucky. The bank is in the position of having loaned money, at least indirectly, on its own stock as security.

Collateral: 260 shs. Inman Co.
Loan began 6-13-27 as $19,866.44.
This has all the appearance of a slow loan. Reduced $606.50 since last examination. In the opinion of your examiner, the reduction of this loan should be accelerated.

Kentucky Lumber and Millwork Co. — 76,130.00
Statement dated 12-31-29 shows Current Assets $188,088.00;
Current Liabilities $107,542.00; Fixed Assets $128,488.00;
Net Worth $197,394.00.
The last audited statement, in 1928, shows a rather large percentage of slow receivables. For the past three years there has been a slight decrease in the net worth, a large decrease in the current ratio, and a slight increase in the fixed assets of the company. Your examiner has been advised that the indebtedness of the company to stockholders will be capitalized, after which the statement of the company will show a current ratio of better than 2 - 1. This will improve the condition of the statement very much for the time being, but company will have to be restored to a basis of profitable operation before its condition is on a satisfactory basis.

	This represents the purchase price of some real estate across the street which the National Bank of Kentucky contemplated using as the location for a new banking house. The property was acquired in the name of A. E. Latta for purposes of expediency. The value of this property is problematical. It is probably less than at the time it was acquired. The National Bank of Kentucky contemplates shortly moving some distance away. It is probable that real estate in this vicinity will suffer sharply after the removal. $10,000.00 of the item is classed as doubtful.

Form 1476 Revised

Office of Comptroller of the Currency

No. of Bank 9512 Date of Report April 8th, 1930.

ITEMS REQUIRING ATTENTION

1. Large amount of Overdue Loans described on Page 4 and on supplemental pages.	The large amount of Statutory Bad Debts renders doubtful the legality of any dividend declared until the amount of such loans has been greatly reduced. Directors might incur personal liability to pay back into bank any dividends declared under such conditions.
2. Slow and Doubtful Loans, described on Page 4 and on supplemental pages.	Close attention should be given.
3. Leases, described on Pages 4,7,8 and on pages supplemental thereto.	Leases were agreed upon as follows: Charged at this examination 139,565.86 Kentucky Wagon Co. - to be taken out of bank by Sept. 1, 1930 478,569.97 Murray Rubber Co. - to be taken out of bank by Sept. 1, 1930 800,000.00 Van Camp stock - less existing 7-16-30 to be charged off 126,096.84 1,544,080.07
4. Other Loans Especially Mentioned, described on Page 6 and on supplemental pages.	Included under this caption is Large Lines. The real troubles of this bank have arisen from the action of the management in permitting large concentrations of credit.
5. Overdrafts in this bank amount to a real view in management. The large amounts of overdrafts that bank has to show in published statements are believed to be disadvantageous to its best interests. The fact some of the large items are created by concerns in which directors are interested is believed to be subject to definite criticism. (See Page 8-B.)	In the opinion of your examiner, the directors of bank should take steps to curtail this evil practice. The publication of such large amounts of overdrafts cannot prove other than harmful to interests of bank.
6. Criticised items described under Stocks, Miscellaneous, Defaulted Bonds and Claims and Judgments, described on Page 7 and on supplemental pages.	Should be given close attention.
7. A portion of stock of Van Camp Packing Co. is unlawfully held. Bank acquired some of the stock D P C. Rights were granted to shareholders of company to purchase additional stock. This right was exercised, and bank thus came into unlawful possession of 11,088 shares of stock of company. This number is considerably in excess of the number covered in rights. This fact, however, is not material as both are unlawful. This would appear to place management in the attitude of speculating in the stock.	It has been agreed that any market loss existing July 16, 1930, will be charged off on that date. There is some question as to the legality of charging to profit account of bank any loss on the 11,088 shs. unlawfully acquired. It may be that the directors who assented to the purchase of this stock are personally liable for any loss arising therefrom. Of course, if the stock in the meantime increases in price and can be sold without loss, any question of liability of directors will have been settled.

8. President Brown is a director in several National banks in violation of law. The following is a list:

Matter will be taken up in due course by management of Federal Reserve Bank of St. Louis.

		Assets
Pearl Market Bank & Trust Co.,	Cincinnati, Ohio	13,500,000.00
Brighton Bank & Trust Co.,	"	14,000,000.00
Peoples Liberty Bank & Trust Co.	Covington, Ky.	5,700,000.00
Central Savings " " "	" "	2,400,000.00
Ashland National Bank,	Ashland, Ky.	7,000,000.00
First National Bank,	Paducah, Ky.	3,700,000.00
Security Bank,	Louisville, Ky.	2,700,000.00
Louisville Trust Co.	"	24,000,000.00

9. The large amount loaned on the stock of BancoKentucky may be open to question as to its legality. The largest single asset of BancoKentucky is the stock of the National Bank of Kentucky.

The loans are as follows:

		Amount	No. shares
Loans secured entirely by stock BancoKy.,	Parent Bank	2,543,640.38	132,542
" " " " "	Branch Bank	302,756.02	18,241
" " " " "	Sold Loans	95,139.91	13,230
" " partially " "	Parent Bank	1,309,967.71	40,319
" " " " "	Branch Bank	834,241.25	20,505
" " " " "	Sold Loans	535,853.65	14,590
		$ 5,791,798.92	239,427

Whether the loans made on the security of this stock are lawful or unlawful is, for the time being, of less importance than is the question of the solvency of some of the loans collateralled by the stock, which are insufficiently secured.

This large concentration of credit can well engage the attention of the board of directors.

10. The total amount of Statutory Bad Debts seems to render any dividend unlawful.

This fact was not known to your examiner at the time of the meeting with the board of directors, hence the matter was not discussed with the board. The legality of the last dividend may be subject to question as to legality.

Take a few loans for the benefit of country correspondents; volume not heavy.

11. Does sending bank appear to be in any way liable? (See No. 10.)

Examiner should advise bank interest on demand or time loans should be collected at least every six months, and that mere payment of interest is not considered a renewal of the loan unless formal extension agreement is signed by all parties or the laws of the State provide otherwise. A new note, if practicable, at each maturity date is preferable.
*Include in "bad debts" only those bonds which have reached actual maturity dates, and otherwise come within the definition of a statutory bad debt.

1,380.00 J. C. Utterback Coll: 40 shs., Palmer Hotel Co., Paducah, Kentucky. Mr. Utterback is the President of the City National Bank, Paducah, Kentucky. The collateral is slow, but is probably worth the debt. Line is being reduced very slowly, having been reduced only $600.00 since 10-22-26.			1,380.00
48,000.00 carried at $25,000.00 H. Verhoff and Company Endorsed R. M. Hartwell and John S. Green. The endorsement of Mr. Green adds nothing. The company's statement dated 6-30-30 shows assets of $37,400.00 and debts of $39,600.00. Furthermore, an operating loss of $1,200.00 is shown for the six months period. In view of the condition of insolvency admitted by the company's statement, together with the continued operating loss, it does not seem that the bank is justified in going along with the company. It should be placed in liquidation and this debt cleaned up. It is believed the bank can escape further loss at this time.	25,000.00		25,000.00	43

The first three issues have a collateral value of $104,175.00. The value of the Crescent Hotel Company stock is uncertain, due to the fact that its principal asset represents an equity in a piece of desirable city real estate. Mr. Washer told your examiner during the examination that in his judgment the stock should reasonably be worth $300.00 per share. He promised to lodge as additional security, 80 shares of that stock and to assign a $50,000.00 life insurance policy. When this is done, the debt would appear to be reasonably safe. Their statement values the plant at $190M., subject to a mortgage of $170M., $140M of which is lodged as collateral to this note of $108M. The debt is being reduced at the rate of $5,000.00 each six months. The line of credit to S. LARGE LINES (NOT TECHNICALLY EXCESSIVE LOANS)

List here all lines of credit which are believed to be subject to criticism, as representing unwarranted extensions of credit to the same or affiliated interests. Include loans, stocks, bonds, or other forms of credit, and explain briefly nature of affiliation. State whether line is disproportionate to bank's resources, or too large in view of financial standing of the borrowers, or why, otherwise, line is thought unwarranted. If any portion of these lines constitutes an excessive loan, such portion should be included also with excessive loans. If a portion only of a large line is included on page 4, include that portion here, but if the whole of a large line is shown on page 4, show only the aggregate here. Describe security, if any, and make any other comment deemed appropriate. Where aggregate line exceeds limit Sec. 5200 state reason for not classing as excessive loan.

OTHER LOANS ESPECIALLY MENTIONED

Large loans not included in Slow or Doubtful schedules but which, because of apparently unsatisfactory statement, disproportionate amount of borrowed money, absence of statement, shortage of collateral, or other specified reason, it seems desirable to list for information. Include here all large loans of a capital nature.

No statement of the American Turf Association is on file. As a matter of fact, due to the nature of the company's business it does not issue one. Consequently it is extremely difficult to appraise these loans. Inquiry at local brokerage houses disclosed that the stock is nominally quoted at about $15.00 per share, but that there are no bids at any price.

The company has a capital of $12,000,000.00 divided into 480,000 shares of $25.00 each. Hence it is seen that this bank holds about one-fourth of the entire capital as collateral. This is entirely too large a concentration on an unlisted issue about which nothing can be accurately ascertained.

It is therefore recommended that immediate steps be taken to collect a substantial portion of the loans listed in the following schedules.

It will be noted from the detailed schedules following that a number of the loans predicated in whole or part on Kanawha Kentucky Co. stock are either short of collateral value or short of margin, the basis of the nominally quoted value of this security in the market at the beginning of the examination, viz. $16.50. Had a rigid appraisal been made as to the paying ability of the many makers whose loans appear short of collateral or margin, there would doubtless have been disclosed a considerable volume of loss, whereas only a few of them are classified in the Slow, Doubtful or Loss schedules appearing in this report. If further consideration be given the fact that at the close of this examination the quoted value of this stock had shrunk to $12.00 per share, or more than 25% of the $16.50 basis used in the schedules, an increased loss would necessarily follow. For the purposes of this examination, and for the reasons set forth on sheet 11 et seq. such an appraisal has not been made.

A further analysis is as follows:

Net amount of loans dependent on Kanawha Kentucky Co. stock	$3,478,861.00
Overdraft in account " "	4,157.00*
Cash items held for " "	22,582.00*
100,000 shares Kanawha Kentucky Co. stock owned by [illegible] Bk. Ky.	1,670,180.00
Total directly dependent on Kanawha Kentucky Co.	$5,175,480.00

*These items paid by the discount of a note of Kanawha Kentucky Co. for $50,000.00 during the examination. This increased the amount to the net total directly dependent on Kanawha Kentucky Co. of — $5,388,801.00

In order to get the true perspective of the Kanawha Kentucky Company ownership of the bank under examination, there must be considered with the above the following loans to the several units of Kanawha Kentucky Company:

The Peoples Liberty Bank & Trust Co., Covington, Ky. (Deposit)	$500,000.00
The Louisville Trust Co., Louisville, Ky., (Cashier's Check for Federal Reserve Funds)	900,000.00

Comment on the Contract between BancoKentucky Company and Caldwell and Company dated May 28, 1930.

A complete copy of the above agreement is not in your examiner's possession at the present time, but he sums up from memory the provisions of the first six paragraphs of the above contract.

Caldwell & Company to increase its capital stock from 10,000 shares of $100 par value, Capital $1,000,000 to 80,000 shares par value, the presently issued stock to be tendered to the BancoKentucky Company in exchange for 900,000 shares of the capital stock of the latter corporation of par value $10 (by-laws of BancoKentucky Company are said to forbid the issuance and sale by the company of any of its shares at less than $25 per share).

In subsequent paragraphs BancoKentucky Company sets out in detail its holdings of various bank stocks, noting the percentage of the total issue in each case, as well as its carrying value. On the other hand, as will be noted from the copy below in paragraph No. 7 of the contract, the second party (Caldwell & Company) represents that as of May 28, 1930, its assets were of such fair aggregate value that, after deducting therefrom all its liabilities, it had a net worth of not less than $9,000,000. No detail of the assets of Caldwell & Company as against the 900,000 shares of BancoKentucky Company at $25. per share, or $22,500,000.00 is embodied in the contract. On this basis, the picture of Caldwell & Company would be as follows:

Net value Caldwell & Company assets	$9,000,000.00
To this add 900,000 shares BancoKentucky Company stock at $25. per value	22,500,000.00
Would give Caldwell & Company net assets of . . .	31,500,000.00
From this figure there should be deducted the value at $25 per share 100,000 shares of BancoKentucky Company stock, which under the supplemental contract was traded by Caldwell & Company to the National Bank of Kentucky for the entire debt owned by that bank of the Kentucky Wagon Company (which Kentucky Wagon Company asset is said to have been later returned to the National Bank of Kentucky - an apparent donation)	2,500,000.00
Revised value of Caldwell & Company, net assets	29,000,000.00
Of this BancoKentucky Company owns ½ interest, or . . .	14,500,000.00
Which it carries in its balance sheet at	22,500,000.00
Leaving a depreciation applicable to the Caldwell & Company stock owned by BancoKentucky Company (Apparently representing the amount paid Caldwell and Company for its good will)	8,000,000.00

President Brown stated in meeting of the board of directors of the National Bank of Kentucky on October 10, 1930, that the entire Kentucky Wagon Company asset acquired by Caldwell & Company in the above mentioned trade had been donated by the latter to the National Bank of Kentucky, which was now entitled to again set the Kentucky Wagon Company asset up on its books.

60

In the contract copied part hereto, it is recited that 500,000 shares of the total of 900,000 shares of BancoKentucky Company stock named in the first paragraph as a consideration of the trade shall be held in escrow in the Louisville Trust Company pending an examination and appraisal of the assets of Caldwell & Company by the BancoKentucky Company to determine the value of same. Your examiner is advised that subsequently an additional 500,000 shares were added by Caldwell & Company to the escrow, and that a total of 400,000 shares is now so held. It was further stated in the above meeting by President Brown that in all probability the greater portion, if not all, of the 400,000 so held in escrow would be returned to the BancoKentucky Company for cancellation; and that no dividend was paid on October 1, 1930, on the 500,000 shares of stock outstanding in the name of Caldwell & Company.

No. of Bank 9913 Date of Report Sept. 17, 1930.

If the above mentioned 400,000 shares of BancoKentucky Company be returned and cancelled, the one-half interest in Caldwell & Company would stand the BancoKentucky Company 800,000 of its shares valued at the sale price of $25 per share $18,800,000.00

The Caldwell & Company statement should then be:

Net Assets	4,800,000.00
Add 800,000 shares of BancoKentucky Company stock at $25 per share	12,800,000.00
	17,000,000.00
Deduct the equivalent of 100,000 shares of BancoKentucky Co. stock for which no value was added to Caldwell & Company assets	2,800,000.00
Net value in Caldwell & Company	14,800,000.00
Of this BancoKentucky Company will own one-half, or	7,250,000.00
Which it will carry in its balance sheet at	12,500,000.00
Leaving depreciation applicable to Caldwell & Company stock in the balance sheet of BancoKentucky Company	5,250,000.00

Had the proportions in the trade between BancoKentucky Company and Caldwell & Company actually been 900,000 shares of its stock of $10 par value, or $9,000,000.00 par, as related to the $9,000,000.00 net value said to exist in Caldwell & Company, then it would reasonably appear that for this $9,000,000.00 value in Caldwell & Company, BancoKentucky Company would offset $22,500,000.00, or a ratio of $2.50 of BancoKentucky Company stock for every $1.00 of value in Caldwell & Company.

Yet the last paragraph of Section 8 of the contract quoted below provides that for each $1.00 of deficit below $9,000,000.00 found to exist in the net worth of Caldwell & Company, the latter shall return to BancoKentucky Company in shares of its stock or in cash $2.22. This appears as conclusive evidence that the real basis of trade was 800,000 shares of BancoKentucky Company stock at $25 a share valued at $20,000,000.00 as opposed to $9,000,000.00 net value of Caldwell & Company, or a ratio of $2.22 BancoKentucky Company Stock to $1.00 net value of Caldwell & Company.

The issuance of 100,000 shs. of BancoKentucky Company Stock to Caldwell & Company, which was by them exchanged for the Kentucky Wagon Company assets (now said to have been donated to the National Bank of Kentucky) has the appearance of a "wash sale", or a subterfuge, and it appears that in fact the BancoKentucky Company merely donated 100,000 shares of its stock to the National Bank of Kentucky to enable it to rid its books of the criticised Kentucky Wagon Company line, and that nothing of value was added to the assets of the BancoKentucky Company to offset the issuance of this 100,000 shares of stock. In consequence, the loss in the Kentucky Wagon Company line, and the $242,500 loss sustained in the sale of the Van Camp Packing Company stock have not been in fact eliminated from the balance sheet of the National Bank of Kentucky.

Charging off the $242,500.00 item having been accomplished on order of the Board of Directors, the entire 100,000 shs. of BancoKentucky should be held in support of the $1,627,650.00 carrying figure of that stock, and in addition, the Kentucky Wagon Company asset should be held in support of the 100,000 shares of stock.

EXCERPT FROM CONTRACT.

No. 7: The second party represents that, as of May 28, 1930, its assets were of such fair aggregate value that, after deducting therefrom all of its liabilities, it had a net worth of not less than $9,000,000.00.

No. 8: The first party shall within twelve (12) months from the date hereof, satisfy itself as to the valuation of the assets of the second party in the computation of the net worth of the second party, as set forth in Section 7 of this agreement.

The President of THE BANCOKENTUCKY COMPANY and the President of CALDWELL & COMPANY will determine the valuation of such assets in the computation of the net worth of the second party with the right of either party to have competent assistants in reaching a determination. If the Presidents of the respective parties are unable to agree upon the valuation of any asset or assets, then and in that event they will select a third party as arbitrator who will then determine said valuation. If the Presidents of the respective parties are unable to agree upon a third party to act as arbitrator as aforesaid, then and in that event they will select Mr. Whiteford R. Cole, who will, in turn, select an arbitrator.

If the net worth of the second party is ascertained to be less than $9,000,000.00, based upon such valuation of its assets, then and in that event the second party at its option will deliver to the first party $2.22 in cash or stock of the first party (on basis of $25.00 per share) for each $1.00 of such deficit or the second party may forfeit any dividends on such part of its stock as is not owned by the first party until an amount equivalent to such deficit is accumulated in the treasury of the second party (provided its stockholders other than the first party shall agree to such forfeiture of dividends). If the net worth of the second party is ascertained to be more than Ten Million ($10,000,000.00) Dollars, then and in that event the first party will deliver to the second party $1.00 of its capital stock (on basis of $25.00 per share) for each $1.00 of such excess.

During the progress of the examination, a loan of (a) $800,000.00 was granted Southern Banks, Inc., collateraled by 100,000 shares, Inter-Southern Life Insurance Company (1). Shortly before the close of the examination, another loan of (b) $300,000.00 was made to the same corporation on an additional block of 100,000 shares, Inter-Southern Life Insurance Company (1). This increased the total loans to Caldwell and Company and its affiliates on the sole security of Inter-Southern Life Insurance Company stock to $2,000,000.00, and a total line of $2,400,000.00.

This examiner construes this as an excessive loan in violation of law, as undoubtedly the loans to Bank of Tennessee, Associates Life, Inc., and Southern Banks, Inc., are for the use and benefit of Caldwell and Company. No statements of these three corporations were available for use of the examiner, and this is a part of the $2,500,000.00 commitment President Brown at one stage admitted (and later denied) was outstanding to Caldwell and Company on the security of Inter-Southern Life Insurance Company stock at $3.00 per share, when the market quotation on said stock is less than $2.00.

grouping with the loans of the parent concern, all not to exceed the loan limit of the bank, viz., $500,000.00.

The first $500,000.00 loan (a) was run thru the books of the bank on the authority of Vice President Jones, without the approving notation of the requisite number of members of the Discount Committee. This was a flagrant abuse of official authority, but that the second loan for $500,000.00 (b) was run through the books of the bank, after the formation by the board of directors of the Executive Committee, which, in turn, had organized and established rules to govern all officers of the bank in granting loan accommodations, which rules were subsequently approved by the board of directors at a meeting at which President Brown presided and Vice President Jones was present, it rendered the position of these two officers as absolutely insubordinate to the authority of the board of directors.

In his conference with the Executive Committee of the bank, on October 23rd, 1930, this examiner emphasized the impropriety of this act on the part of the bank's two senior officials, in fact, stated to them that this act might be construed as misapplication of the funds of the bank, and urged that the board of directors not only discipline these officers by proper measures, but that the board of directors on its own initiative advise Caldwell and Company of the cancellation of any species of commitment which the officers of Caldwell and Company might think was outstanding to them and their affiliates by the National Bank of Kentucky. He suggested that the following resolution be adopted by the board of directors:

"RESOLVED that the Board of Directors of the National Bank of Kentucky of Louisville Kentucky, directs its Secretary to notify Caldwell and Company and Rogers Caldwell of Nashville, Tennessee, that any commitments for loans to him or his interests, which he may consider to be outstanding to him or his interests by the National Bank of Kentucky, of Louisville, Kentucky, are why by its Board of Directors cancelled."

The Executive Committee did not see fit to recommend the adoption of the above resolution by the board of directors. It did, however, in lieu thereof, adopt the two following resolutions:

(1) " It was moved by Mr. Speed, seconded by Mr. O'Brien and unanimously carried that Mr. Brown notify Mr. Rogers Caldwell that on account of the size of the loans to his Companies that this bank cannot make any additional loans to him or any of his Companies."

(2) " It was moved by Mr. Speed, seconded by Mr. Vogt and unanimously carried that in view of the fact that the last two loans of $500,000.00 each, one to Southern Banks, Inc., taken October 6, 1930 and one to Southern Banks, Inc., taken October 20, 1930, each secured by 100,000 shares of Inter Southern Life Insurance Company, were not approved by the board of directors or the Executive Committee that additional approved collateral be requested."

(See Sheet 11 - 4 et seq. for further comment on management of bank).

loan of $55,000.00 collateraled by 500 shs. Van Camp Packing Co. Pfd. and 17,945½ shs. Van Camp Packing Co. Com.

After having estimated the values of the collaterals securing the various loans, it was revealed that while the collaterals were adequate to cover the loans, they did not afford the customary margins applicable to brokers loans. Vice President Jones agreed to have additional margin delivered which was done, but the value was not brought up to customary standards.

Investigation disclosed that Messrs. Wakefield and Co. were parties to a trade with the National Bank of Kentucky whereby stock of the Van Camp Packing Co. that cost Wakefield and Co. $18.50 per share was sold to the National Bank of Kentucky at a price of $22.00 per share resulting in a profit to Wakefield of $40,250.00. President Brown advised that this was done to reimburse them for a loss previously sustained on a sale of stock of the same company to Wakefield & Co. under which the bank had guaranteed them against a decline in price.

It was also revealed that the bank has been rebating to them the interest on that part of the loan collateraled by the $100,000.00 C/D. During the past several examinations of this bank the interest would be collected and at the close of the examination, or shortly thereafter, the amount collected would be rebated to Wakefield & Co. The supposed compensating balance represents nothing except an arbitrary entry. This official attempt at deception is quite apparent.

Large overdrafts appear from time to time in the account. In several instances these produced excessive loans without giving effect to the "accommodation notes."

An examination of the collateral discloses that a substantial portion of the stocks securing the loans is registered in the names of James B. Brown and Chas. F. Jones. This would seem to indicate that a portion of these loans was carried for the benefit of these two officers.

The continuous disregard for the provisions of the law in connection with the handling of this account demonstrates to your examiner its wholly undesirable character, and it is recommended that all the loans be collected and the account closed.

Collateral: 1,000 shares, BancoKentucky,
1,200 " Foreign and Domestic Veneer, "A" Common.
$15,487.50 of the above also bears the endorsement of C. R. Mangal.
Due to the unsettled condition of the lumber industry, it is difficult to attach any particular value to the stock of the Foreign and Domestic Veneer Corporation until the company shall have been successful in working out its own troubles.
An effort should be made to collect the entire debt.

Stimpson Computing Scale Company — 198,700.00
Company's statement dated 12-31-29 shows: Current Assets $586,000.00; Fixed Assets $226,000.00; Current Debts $275,000.00; Mortgages $147,000.00; Net Worth $430,000.00.
On the basis of the statement, the company's condition is not particularly bad. However, an operating loss of $33,000.00 was sustained for the period. This has necessitated a change in the style of scales to be manufactured in the future. Heretofore, the company's business has been largely confined to the manufacture of counter scales. These have been sold on long-time payment plans. This reflects itself in the item of $472,000.00 receivables included in the item of current assets.

FOURTH STREET BRANCH

A. C. Angermeier,		$21,800.00
Collateral: 200 shs RemcoKentucky Company
100 " VanCamp Packing Co. Com.
200 " VanCamp Packing Co. Pfd.
260 " American Turf.
275 " Chas. Rosenheim Co.
The listed collateral has an estimated value of $9,970.00. The last named stock is closely held, with no market, and regarded of an unsatisfactory character for collateral purposes on the basis of the operating figures as shown by the credit files.
Marie M. Hunt,		5,102.50
Endorsed by Sam P. Meyer, who will, in all probability, have to pay the note. Should be collateraled or collected.
Jefferson Cafeteria,		12,000.00
Endorsed Chas. J. Boravenesser.
Statement of 3/31/30 lists assets of land and buildings $67.4M, mortgaged for $22.1M, and machinery and fixtures $56.8M, with open debt of $20.6M. Loan is entirely capital and maker's debt is exceedingly heavy, and payments on this loan have been slow.
Jones - Dabney Company	Direct	70,000.00
	Indirect	8,273.61
	Liability on Accept.	5,101.08
Statement of the concern dated 6/30/30 lists: Quick Assets $224.7M; Current Liabilities $119.1M; Plant $374.8M, unencumbered. Ratio is slightly below the standard and profits of the concern for 1929 were meager, being $6.3M. Dividends of $14,540.00 were paid.
Ollie C. Lewis Miles,		22,438.70
Collateral: 100 shs Cornett Lewis Coal;
200 " General Motors, Com.
500 " Minneapolis, Moline Power Implement Co.
The last two named stocks have a listed value of $13,600.00. It is claimed that the first named stock can be sold for at least $200.00 a share. These values give practically no margin of security, and in view of the situation in the coal industry, it is recommended that the loan have especial attention.

The following loans do not have the standard margin of collateral.

$ 5,000.00	Bonhore Mfg. Co, Bond of Goldie Ravits and Lillie Berg '31 This is a mortgage issue. The information furnished is to the effect that the property is good for the debt and that the bond will be paid.	$ 5,000.00	$5,000.00
3,975.00	1st Mtg. Real Estate Notes, J. H. Bickel '30 - '32 Information furnished during this examination is to the effect that these notes are safe and will be paid.	3,975.00	3,975.00
265,000.00	Notes, Rogers Caldwell, et al Coll: $265,000.00 Murray Rubber Co. 1st Mtg. Bonds. (See Large Line of Banc-Kentucky Company). The Murray Rubber Company operates a factory at Trenton, N. J. As disclosed by the last several reports of examination of this bank, the company's debt has been a source of much concern. Its affairs continue to grow progressively worse. Comparative statements as of July 31, 1930 and August 31, 1930, are attached herewith, together with an analysis of the Profit and Loss Account. (See Extra Sheets 7 - 7 and 7 - 8.) The exact status of the loan to Mr. Caldwell is not known. The interest is not being paid on it and the officers advised that the bank had agreed with Mr. Caldwell that no interest would be collected as long as the interest on the first mortgage bonds of the Murray Rubber Company was in default, nor would any attempt be made to collect from him until the security underlying the first mortgage bonds had been exhausted, hence your examiner can do nothing except estimate the loss as doubtful.	265,000.00		$265,000.00

(x) To be sold to BancoKentucky Co. - Various debtors (See Directors' Letter)		400,000.00
To be charged to Undivided Profits		227.54
Total covered by examiner's letter dated October 11, 1930, to directors		$1,250,482.28
Other items to be charged out:

Parent Bank		121.97
Losses in Cash Items - 4th St. Branch		16.54
Depreciation in bond account - Covered by Reserve for Contingencies		106,932.65
* Total *		$1,357,654.74

* This amount exceeds the loss column on Sheet #11 by $1,482.50. This is accounted for by items in examiner's letter to directors dated October 11, 1930, to be sold to BancoKentucky Company, but not classed as losses above - (Difference in Thos. Harred note $82.50 and J. S. Reynolds Real Estate $1,400.00)

(x) Should this sale to BancoKentucky Company not be consummated within a reasonable time, it will be in order that these items be charged off, which will necessitate a reduction in the Surplus Account of bank.

Doubtful Loans:

The unceasing efforts of the management to secure a reduction in these criticised lines, as well as to strengthen them with additional collateral, is urged. Lacking this vigorous effort, many of these items apparently represent present losses.

Slow Loans:

The same vigorous attention should be given the items classed as slow.

Especially Mentioned Loans:

Many of the items under this heading are apparently in precarious condition and merit the best efforts of the officers.

Exhibit 20

Form 1548 Treasury
TREASURY DEPARTMENT

CRITICISED

Remarks [illegible]:

Attention of the management and board of directors is directed to the fact that losses suffered on loans and lines of credit made in violation of law constitute the personal liability of the members of the board of directors who approve such loans. Furthermore, the lines of credit criticised under this heading constitute elements of present and potential danger.

Concentrations:

	Amount	No. Shares	Percent of Total Stock Outstanding.
Total of Loans Secured in Whole Or in Part by Stock of BanceKentucky	$5,690,861.00	212,564	8.62
Total of Loans Secured in Whole Or in Part by Stock of American Turf	4,017,120.00	110,605	22.
Total of Loans Secured in Whole Or in Part by Stock of Inter-Southern Life Ins. Co.	2,400,000.00	667,000	20.
	$12,107,981.00

This total is admittedly not an exact one, since there are duplications on some items where stocks of BanceKentucky Company and American Turf are held to secure the same loans, but the figure is sufficiently large to call attention to the fact that there is an undue concentration in loans of this bank on the security of these stocks. None of the loans included in this tabulation are eligible for rediscount at the Federal Reserve Bank, and the same is true of practically all of the other collateral loans held by the bank. This emphasizes the above heading.

Poor Current Position:

Reference to the statement of the bank discloses that its cash position was none too good at the start of the examination, and at the close of the examination the bank's borrowings had increased to practically $6,000,000.00. When the statement of the officers of the bank, that it held only approximately $4,000,000.00 of loans that were eligible for rediscount at the Federal Reserve Bank, is given consideration in connection with the fact that in years past this bank has owed at various times in excess of $17,000,000.00, the elements of danger in this poor current position are apparent.

Your examiner is advised that this bank has contracted to purchase from the Louisville Trust Company a new banking house at a cost of $857,000.00, which is contracted to be paid in cash. This will prove a further drain on the bank's cash resources.

Management:

As stated in the two meetings of the board of directors, this examiner considers the condition of the bank, as reflected in the foregoing paragraphs, constitutes a severe indictment of its official management. Developments during the examination, as disclosed in the foregoing pages of this report, of large loans made on non-liquid collateral by President Brown and Vice-President Jones, partially at least in violation of the express instructions of the board of directors, constitutes a condition which this examiner cannot pass. In his meetings with the board of directors and the newly created executive committee, this examiner emphasized this condition, and he reiterates it here for the purpose of impressing on the board of directors their obligation to fulfill their oaths of office by operating the bank in conformity with conservative practices and within the law and the regulations of the Comptroller of the Currency.

In those where the amount of loss estimated is only a portion of the line of the maker, a participation in the [illegible] is to be sold to the BancoKentucky Company, such sold portion to become a junior claim on assets of maker by proper subrogation agreement executed by the said purchaser.

OHY (Cont'd.)

The Board of Directors of the National Bank of Kentucky authorized the sale of the Kentucky Wagon Co. asset to Caldwell & Co. for 100,000 shares of BancoKentucky stock, but there is no record of it at any time having authorized the capitalization of the loss in sale of Van Camp stock.

For the purposes of this examination, therefore, the undersigned suggests that the proper procedure is to reverse the entry whereby this Van Camp loss was capitalized, returning the $848,800. item to the bond account as an un-adjusted loss, and then to charge it off to the Undivided Profit account.

You are advised that in his report of this examination, a loss of $848,800.00 is being estimated in the above items, and that should your Board refuse to write off the amount of $848,800. as requested, the undersigned will recommend to the Comptroller of the Currency that your bank be placed on the list for more frequent examinations.

Your attention is called to the fact that in the deliberations of your Board with the undersigned, the agreement of the examiner that the BancoKentucky Co. buy the criticised items listed above, and the charge off of the small amount in excess of $1,000,000. sold to the BancoKentucky Co., was predicated on the assurances of President Brown and the Directors that active efforts would be immediately put in force to bring about a consolidation of the National Bank of Kentucky and the Louisville Trust Company, in the consummation of which other items considered as in an unsatisfactory condition by the Examiner will be eliminated from the books of the National Bank of Kentucky.

A reply to this communication advising of compliance or non-compliance with the above recommendation, over the individual signatures of the Directors is hereby requested.

Respectfully,

(Signed). Robert Stell

NATIONAL BANK OF KENTUCKY OF LOUISVILLE, KENTUCKY.

Louisville, Ky., October 24, 1930.

Hon. Comptroller of the Currency,
Washington, D. C.

Sir:

In reply to the letter of Chief National Bank Examiner Robert Neill, addressed to this board on October 11, 1930, the undersigned directors of The National Bank of Kentucky make the following report:

#1 The item of $248,800 representing loss in the Van Camp Packing Company stock, which had been added to the carrying value of the BancoKentucky Company stock owned by the National Bank of Kentucky has been charged to the Undivided Profit Account, thereby creating a deficit in that account, which deficit we are confident will be covered by current earnings within the next sixty days.

#2 The $250,000.00 represented by debentures of the Harvey Rubber Company and a participation of $20,000.00 in the note of Louis C. Humphreys for $27,734.74 have been this day sold to the BancoKentucky Company, this bank having received in payment therefor check of the BancoKentucky Company for $600,000 against its adequate balance on the books of this bank. The remainder of $7,734.74 of the Humphreys' item has been charged to Undivided Profits.

#3 This board is assured by Messrs. James B. Brown, Charles F. Jones and W. T. Mc Schmidt, officers of the BancoKentucky Company, the first two named being members of this board and the last named its secretary, that active and bonafide efforts are being made by them as officers of the BancoKentucky Company to borrow $400,000, which is to be used by the BancoKentucky Company for the purpose of purchasing, under the terms set forth in letter of October 11, 1930, the remaining items described therein.

#4 The entire 100,000 shares of BancoKentucky Company stock acquired by this bank in exchange for the Kentucky Wagon Company indebtedness is now being carried on the books of the bank at $1,687,600, the amount of the Kentucky Wagon Company indebtedness as of the date of the transfer. We agree that this carrying value will not be increased unless and until the market value of the BancoKentucky Company stock shall exceed the present carrying value.

#6 This Board of Directors in the entirety and through its recently created Executive Committee is undertaking to pass on all loans made by the bank, and to consider and pass on all lines of credit, commitments, contracts and major expense items incident to the operation of this bank. The heavy line of credit to Caldwell and Company and affiliated interests, which the examiner advises this board is in his opinion an excessive loan in violation of law, will not be increased - in fact our President has been directed to call for additional collateral on existing loans. $600,000 of this indebtedness which has come into the bank since the commencement of the present examination, has not been approved by this board. Of this amount $250,000 was loaned after the creation by this board of the Executive Committee for the purpose, as one of its functions, of passing on loan applications. President Brown and Vice-President James assume the entire responsibility for this loan from the bank's funds.

CRITICISMS.

By-Laws:

The creation, during this examination, by the board of directors of an executive committee to oversee the conduct of the bank between meetings of the board of directors, calls for an amendment to the by-laws. The duties and powers of such committee should be fully set forth in such by-laws, empowering it to make recommendations to the board relative contracts, salaries of executives and employees, advertising, and other items of major expenditure, as well as passing on and approving new loans and investments and renewals of existing loans.

If the existing by-laws does not provide for periodical examinations of the bank by a committee from the board of directors, it is suggested that it be so amended.

Prospective Merger:

It was explained to this examiner that a merger of the National Bank of Kentucky with the Louisville Trust Company of Louisville is in prospect, and inasmuch as both banking corporations are, to all intents and purposes, 100% owned by the BancoKentucky Company, it should prove easy of consummation.

Assurance that this merger is in good faith, in process of consummation and that on consummation of such merger the questionable paper in this bank will be eliminated from its assets, has actuated a more liberal classification of many loans than would otherwise have been made, notably on loans secured by stock of the BancoKentucky Company and American Turf, in which adequate security or margin is now lacking.

Dividend Policy:

Attention of the board is directed to the statutory inhibition against the payment of dividends unless the undivided profits of bank exceed by the amount of the dividend the amount of statutory bad debts owned by the bank at date of declaration of dividend. As a matter of conserving earnings to provide for losses, a reduction in the present dividend rate of 10% per annum should be given serious consideration by the board of directors.

Attention is directed to the condensed earning statement of the bank for the past ten years made a part of this report.

The following letter dated October 24, 1930, was addressed to the Hon. Comptroller of the Currency, Washington, D. C.

"In reply to the letter of Chief National Bank Examiner, Robert Neill, addressed to this board on October 11, 1930, the undersigned directors of The National Bank of Kentucky make the following report:

#1. The item of $242,500 representing loss in the Van Camp Packing Company stock, which has been added to the carrying value of the BancoKentucky Company stock owned by the National Bank of Kentucky has been charged to the Undivided Profit Account, thereby creating a deficit in that account, which deficit we are confident will be covered by current earnings within the next sixty days.

#2. The $580,000 represented by debentures of the Murray Rubber Company and a participation of $20,000 in the note of Lewis C. Humphreys for $27,734.74 have been this day sold to the BancoKentucky Company, this bank having received in payment therefor check of the BancoKentucky Company for $600,000 against its adequate balance on the books of this bank. The remainder of $7,734.74 of the Humphreys' item has been charged to Undivided Profits.

#3. This Board is assured by Messrs. James B. Brown, Charles F. Jones, and W. T. ZurSchmiede, officers of the BancoKentucky Company, the two first named being members of this board and the last named its secretary, that active and bonafide efforts are being made by them as officers of the BancoKentucky Company to borrow $400,000, which is to be used by the BancoKentucky Company for the purpose of purchasing, under the terms set forth in letter of October 11,1930, the remaining items described therein.

#4. The entire 100,000 shares of the BancoKentucky Company stock acquired by this bank in exchange for the Kentucky Wagon Company indebtedness is now being carried on the books of the bank at $1,627,650, the amount of the Kentucky Wagon Company indebtedness as of the date of the transfer. We agree that this carrying value will not be increased unless and until the market value of the BancoKentucky Company stock shall exceed the present carrying value.

#5. This Board of Directors in its entirety and through its recently created Executive Committee is undertaking to pass on all loans made by the bank, and to consider and pass on all lines of credit commitments, contracts and major expense items incident to the operation of this bank. The heavy line of credit to Caldwell and Company and affiliated interests, which the examiner advises this board is in his opinion an excessive loan in violation of law, will not be increased - in fact our President has been directed to call for additional collateral on existing loans. $600,000 of this indebtedness which has come into the bank since the commencement of the current examination has not been approved by this board. Of this amount $500,000 was loaned after the creation by this board of the Executive Committee for the purpose, as one of its functions, of passing on loan applications. President Brown and Vice President Jones assume the entire responsibility for this loan from the bank's funds.

#6. We believe and represent that active and bona fide efforts are being made to consummate a merger of this bank with the Louisville Trust Company and on the completion of such merger, it is anticipated that other slow and doubtful paper criticised by the examiner will be eliminated from the assets of this bank.

#7. This letter is copied in full in the minutes of this meeting.

Respectfully,

James B. Brown

Saunders P. Jones,
S. E. Duncan,

George W. Clark,

Mr. Chas. F. Jones, Cashier,
National Bank of Kentucky,
Louisville, Ky.

Dear Sir:

Referring to the conference last night between Mr. Brown, Mr. Vaughan, you and myself, as I understood the questions submitted they were very largely covered by my letter of June 14th to you, a copy of which is attached. However, for the sake of clearness and after talking over the telephone with Mr. Vaughan, we submit our answers as follows:

(1) There is no State law or limitation on State banks or State trust companies as to where they shall carry their required reserves. If, however, a State bank or State trust company is a member of the Federal Reserve, it has to comply with the Federal Reserve Act and carry its reserve with the Federal Reserve Bank of its district.

(2) National banks must carry their reserves with their Federal Reserve Bank and the only way to avoid doing so is to de-nationalize so as to bring the institutions solely under the State laws, under which, as stated, they may deposit with any other bank or trust company in the same or any other city.

(3) The reserves required under the State law and the national law are uniform in cities of the same class, and not repeated because set forth in the attached letter.

Member banks in the Federal Reserve System are prohibited by the Federal Reserve Act from depositing with a non-member bank in excess of 10% of its own paid-up capital and surplus.

Except for this last limitation and the requirement of keeping with the Federal Reserve Bank of the district the legal reserve against deposits, there is no limitation upon where national banks shall keep their deposits.

Yours very truly,

TKH-ML.

Mr. Chas. F. Jones, Cashier,
National Bank of Kentucky,
Fifth & Main Sts.,
Louisville, Ky.

Dear Sir:

Referring to the questions you submitted to me yesterday afternoon, I advise as follows:

(1) The amount of reserves required under the Kentucky law, Section 584 Kentucky Statutes, and the Federal law, Section 19 of the Federal Reserve Act, are the same, viz, in a Federal Reserve city, which Louisville is, 10% on demand deposits and 3% on time and savings deposits.

(2) In State banks and trust companies which are not members of the Federal Reserve, their legal reserve may be one-third in money in their vaults and two-thirds in balances due subject to call deposited in any other bank.

(3) If a State bank or trust company becomes a member of the Federal Reserve, then it is under the same requirements as to its reserve as national banks.

Therefore, as to both national banks and State banks, or trust companies, which are members of the Federal Reserve System, the Federal Act requires the above mentioned reserves to be kept on deposit with the Federal Reserve Bank of the district.

In estimating the balances upon which reserves are to be paid, the member banks pay on the net difference of amounts due to and from other banks and they may also deduct from their balances deposits of the Government.

This subject is further referred to in the Federal Reserve Board Regulations, Section III (b) "(1) From gross demand deposits, all Government deposits as defined above. (2) From the amount of balances due to other banks, the amount of balances due from other banks (except Federal reserve banks and foreign banks), including in the amount due from banks, out of town items placed in the mail and charged to the account of correspondent banks, items with a Federal reserve bank in process of collection, checks drawn on banks located in the same city, and exchanges for clearing houses".

There is no similar provision in the Kentucky law.

The Federal Reserve Act in Section 10 prohibits any member bank from keeping on deposit with any State bank or trust company which is not a member bank a sum in excess of 10% of its paid up capital and surplus.

Exhibit 22

In my opinion there is no limitation on the rights of country banks depositing with a city bank, whenever the city bank is a voluntary or compulsory member of the Federal Reserve System, whether it be a State bank or a State trust company member of the Federal Reserve or organized as a national bank.

If this does not answer your question I will be glad to confer further.

Yours very truly,

TKH-MI.

Louisville, Ky., July 19, 1929.

To the Holders of Trustees' Participation Shares,

National Bank of Kentucky and The Louisville Trust Company:

1. Your Officers and Directors have studied the rapidly changing conditions in the banking business in America, with a view to preparing the two banking institutions under their management, to meet these changed conditions, and to take early advantage of new opportunities presented thereby.

2. The conclusion unanimously reached, as a result of their deliberations, is that the two banks, and the business conducted by them, should be reorganized by adding to this group a third corporation, which will make the operations of these banking institutions more profitable, expand their facilities, and thus develop for the entire group new and profitable financial opportunities and connections.

3. Such a reorganization is in line with the trend of business and finance in this country; and the strength and influence of the new corporation will not only greatly benefit the two banks and the territory they now serve, but will also be a stabilizing influence in banking circles throughout this section of the country. The new corporation can exercise many profitable and important functions which neither a bank nor a trust company has authority to exercise, and can take advantage of many sound and profitable financial opportunities, frequently presented in the course of business of the two banks, but not available to them, because of the restrictions upon their powers and activities.

4. The following is the Plan of Reorganization agreed upon by the Officers and Directors of the two banks, and approved by formal Resolutions of the Trustees, under the Trustees' Agreement for the National Bank of Kentucky and The Louisville Trust Company.

5. There has been organized under the laws of the State of Delaware, a corporation known as The Banco-Kentucky Company, with an authorized capital of 2,000,000 shares, having a par value of Ten ($10.00) Dollars each. The stock will be exchanged or sold, in accordance with this Plan, on the basis of Twenty-five ($25.00) Dollars per share, which will give the Company a capital of Twenty Million ($20,000,000.00) Dollars, and a surplus of Thirty Million ($30,000,000.00) Dollars, or a total capital and surplus of Fifty Million ($50,000,000.00) Dollars. No stock will be sold by the Company at less than Twenty-five ($25.00) Dollars per share.

6. The corporation is given broad charter powers, including the right to acquire stocks, bonds and other securities of other corporations, and evidences of indebtedness created or issued by other corporations; the power to underwrite securities and take part in syndicate management, and to charge fees and commissions for its services in connection with the reorganization or refinancing of other corporations; the power to issue bonds and to guarantee the obligations of others and to become surety, guarantor and endorser thereof. The foregoing is merely a brief summary of the broad powers given the corporation; complete details of these powers appear in the Certificate of Incorporation of the Company, copies of which may be examined at the offices of the two banks by any one interested.

7. It is an essential part of this reorganization that the shares of this corporation (or at least a substantial majority thereof) be owned by the Trustees' Participation Shareholders, and that it be managed and operated by the Boards of Directors and the officers of the two banks. The BancoKentucky Company, therefore, offers to the Trustees' Participation Shareholders of the National Bank of Kentucky and The Louisville Trust Company, through the Trustees as agents in the transaction, its entire capital stock, on the bases and subject to the terms and conditions hereinafter set out:

Exhibit 23

Exhibit "Zur Schmiede No. 42"

8. It is an essential part of this Plan that:

(a) On or before September 19, 1929, the holders of the Trustees' Participation Shares must deposit their Certificates with the Trustees for exchange into the shares of The BancoKentucky Company; and for each Participation Share thus deposited, the Trustees will cause to be issued to the holder thereof, Two (2) shares of the stock of the new corporation. In addition thereto the depositing shareholder will have the right to subscribe for as many additional shares of the stock of The BancoKentucky Company as he may desire at the price of Twenty-five ($25.00) Dollars per share subject to allotment ratably if over-subscribed. Trustees' Participation Shareholders who fail to deposit their shares on or before September 19, 1929, will be deemed to have waived their rights to thus exchange their shares and subscribe for stock in the new Company, unless the Trustees shall extend the time for deposit and subscription (as they may do in their discretion), in which event the Trustees' Participation Shareholders will be deemed to have waived their rights, unless their shares are deposited within the extended time.

(b) The entire Plan of Reorganization, and the deposit and subscription privileges and rights hereinabove set out, are all, and each of them is, conditioned expressly upon the acquisition by the Trustees' Participation Shareholders, either by deposit for exchange, or by direct subscription as above, of at least a majority of the shares of The BancoKentucky Company; and further conditioned upon the acquisition by The BancoKentucky Company of at least a majority of the Trustees' Participation Shares issued and outstanding as of September 19, 1929.

9. It is the unanimous recommendation of your Officers, Directors and Trustees of the National Bank of Kentucky and The Louisville Trust Company, that the Trustees' Participation Shareholders immediately deposit their shares under this Reorganization Plan, and

The Chairman thereupon declared that the above named thirty-four persons were elected Directors of the corporation to serve until the next annual election or until the election and qualification of their successors.

The Chairman laid before the meeting a resolution adopted by the unanimous vote of the Directors of the corporation at a meeting held on December 27th, 1929, recommending that the Certificate of Incorporation of the corporation be amended so as to increase the authorized capital stock from 2,000,000 shares, each share of the par value of Ten Dollars, to 5,000,-

Exhibit 23

000 shares, each share of the par value of Ten Dollars, and further to deny to stockholders of the corporation their preemptive right to subscribe for shares of the corporation, said resolution recommending said increase being set out in full in the minutes of the meeting of the Board of Directors held on the day above mentioned.

Mr. Henry S. Gray requested that the two suggested amendments to the Certificate of Incorporation be voted upon separately, which request was granted.

Thereupon the Chairman announced that a vote of the stockholders would first be taken on the question of amending the Certificate of Incorporation so as to increase the authorized capital stock from 2,000,000 shares to 5,000,000 shares, each of the par value of Ten Dollars.

The Chairman appointed Messrs. R. R. Williams and Benjamin S. Washer as Judges to conduct the voting. Thereupon, a vote by ballot was taken and the Judges having canvassed the same announced that 1,087,396 shares had been voted in favor of the amendment, above stated, and that no shares were voted against the same. Thereupon, the Chairman announced that the amendment had been ratified and approved by the vote of 1,087,396 shares out of 1,538,269 shares issued and outstanding.

The Chairman then announced that the next question was on the recommendation of the Board of Directors that the stockholders of the corporation be denied any preemptive right to subscribe for additional shares.

The question was fully discussed by Chairman Carroll, Mr. Henry S. Gray, and other shareholders, and at the conclusion of the discussion a vote by ballot was taken upon the adoption of said amendment to the Certificate of Incorporation. Said vote was conducted by the Judges above named, who, after canvassing the votes cast, announced that 1,087,121 shares had been cast in favor of the amendment and that 275 shares had been cast against the same. The Chairman thereupon announced that inasmuch as largely more than a majority of the shareholders had voted in favor of said proposed amendment, that the same was adopted, ratified and approved.

The Chairman laid before the meeting the form of an Amended Certificate of Incorporation of the Cor-

JONES be and they are now named as a Special Committee with full authority to negotiate a sale of the capital stock now owned by THE BANCOKENTUCKY COMPANY in the BRIGHTON BANK AND TRUST COMPANY of CINCINNATI, OHIO, on such terms as in the judgment of said Committee may be for the best interest of THE BANCOKENTUCKY COMPANY and carry the sale of same, if made into effect, by executing in behalf of THE BANCOKENTUCKY COMPANY such documents as may be necessary.

November 18th, 1930

A meeting of the Executive Committee of THE BANCOKENTUCKY COMPANY was held this date at 11:30 A. M. in the office of A. J. CARROLL, INTER-SOUTHERN BUILDING. A quorum of the Executive Committee was present, as follows:

MESSRS. CARROLL, DODD, BOHMER and VAUGHAN

MR. CALLAHAN, another member of the Executive Committee, being at the time in Cincinnati, Ohio, in touch with the situation there and familiar with the transactions for which the meeting was called.

There also met with the Executive Committee the following Directors, whom the Executive Committee called into consultation on the matter:

MESSRS. E. LELAND TAYLOR, STUART DUNCAN, S. W. COONS, E. J. O'BRIEN, JR., JOSEPH H. DURHAM, SAM STONE and ARTHUR RUTLEDGE.

The Chairman stated that the meeting was called for the purpose of considering an emergency which had arisen in connection with the Peoples-Liberty Bank and Trust Company and the Central Savings Bank and Trust Company of Covington, Kentucky; that Mr. Kennedy Helm had telephoned the imperative necessity of selling these Banks if possible to purchasers in Cincinnati who were willing to buy them provided the purchase could be consummated immediately. Mr. Helm advised that a serious run upon both Banks was in progress and that a sale seemed advisable on the best terms obtainable. He then dictated over the telephone proposed option contract for the sale of stocks of these two Banks held by THE BANCOKENTUCKY COMPANY and asked the Executive Committee to consider same and give the Special Committee in Cincinnati, consisting of Messrs. Helm, Callahan and Jones, authority to proceed.

The proposed option contract is as follows:

(CONTRACT ATTACHED HERETO)

Said proposed contract was then read to the Executive Committee and to the other Directors who were present. The unanimous sentiment of all present was that under the circumstances and conditions prevailing in Covington and in the said Banks, the above proposition was fair and reasonable; and at all events, was the best price obtainable in the emergency. A resolution was thereupon adopted, unanimously concurred in by all of the other members of the Board present, authorizing the Special Committee consisting of Messrs. Helm, Callahan and Jones to close said sale on said terms.

Following the passage of this resolution, it was brought to the attention of the Committee that the Ashland National Bank might also become involved in difficulties due to its proximity to the Covington Banks, and it was felt that the emergency might be so great as to make it impossible to convene the entire Board or even a quorum of the Executive Committee. Whereupon the Executive Committee (the other Directors present concurring) adopted the following resolution:
